Fascist Menace In London

"Real Terror Among Jewish Population"

Beware Of Terrible Reprisals, Warns Lansbury

AN APPEAL TO PUBLIC TO HELP POLICE

LONDON: July 10.

Fascist anti-Semitic violence, particularly in East End of London, and the difficulties of the Police in coping with it, formed the subject of a lively debate in the House of Commons.

Mr. George Lansbury described it as "real terror among the Jewish population; resident east of Aldgate." He said, Fascists persistently insulted the Jewish traders and incited others to attack them. He prophesied that, if it is not stopped, this would lead to terrible reprisals.

AT FASCIST MEETINGS.

Other members described personal attacks by Fascists on Jews.

Humourist, Mr. Herbert remarked that he was never attracted by any political party whose aim was to wear an underclothing of a particular colour calling themselves "Black-Shirts," "Blue-Breces," "Pink-Pants" or "Dirty-Drawers."

He strongly appealed against violence exercised by stewards armed with knuckle-dusters at Fascist meetings and urged that the force of Law should be applied to "pantaloon politics" and that interrupters should only be ejected by the Police.

PROBLEM FOR POLICE.

The Home Secretary agreed that Police were confronted with the most difficult tasks, but legislation would be required to permit the Police to act as stewards. He appealed to the people attacked to help the Police whereat Mr. Herbert pointed out the difficulty of confronting the interrupter, who was being assaulted when taking the names and addresses of his assailants.

Sir John Simon continuing admitted the difficulty and declared that the Police were making greatest efforts to deal with the situation.—Reuter's Special.

When Parsis Take To Agriculture

SIND GOVERNOR COMMENDS CO-OP. COLONIES' SCHEME IN LLOYD BARRAGE

(From Our Correspondent).

KARACHI: July 10.

"It has been my pleasure to have known and to have worked with great men amongst Parsis, whose names you have read out in your address," declared Sir Lancelot Graham, Governor of Sind, replying to an address of welcome, presented to him by the local Parsis yesterday evening.

Sir Lancelot referred to his contact with Sir Ferozshah Mehta, Sir Dinshaw Wacha and the Rt. Hon. Sir Dinshaw Mulla, first of the Parsis to achieve the distinction of the membership of the Privy Council. In Sir D. Mulla there was a rare combination of an academician and a practical lawyer.

"Your Golden Age," continued His Excellency, "if not continuous, moves in rapidly returning cycles, so that your great men come on the scene if not unceasingly, at any rate, after only briefest intervals between them."

The secret of the Parsis' success, His Excellency thought, lay in the combination of ability, integrity and generosity.

Referring to the last trait, His Excellency referred to the Wadia Colony at Colaba, Bombay, which is one of the most remarkable examples of discriminating charity.

Referring to that portion of the address which stressed that the Parsis were a minority community in Sind and that special responsibilities were laid upon the Governor for safeguarding the legitimate rights of the minorities, His Excellency said, that he would not hesitate to use the safeguards when necessary, though he did not think that they would require special interference from him on their behalf.

Referring to the Parsis' desire to partake in the agricultural development based on the Lloyd Barrage Scheme, His Excellency referred to the Reclamation Scheme in the forest-land in the Panchmahals Distt. of Gujerat, undertaken by Sir Bomanji Dalal successfully. His Excellency discussed their idea with the Revenue Officer for the Barrage and assured them of his sympathetic consideration. The Barrage lands could not be granted on unduly favourable terms, but occupancy prices may be paid in instalments.

The Governor also stressed the need for special training before engaging the new occupation of Agriculture. It would give him the greatest pleasure to see a Co-operative Colony of the Parsi farmers established in the Barrage area.

SUBHAS BOSE AND GUNTUR Dt. BOARD

Govt. Out To Cancel That Resolution

GUNTUR, (By Mail).

A communication received here from the Government calls upon the Guntur District Board to explain, why the Board's resolution, passed at its meeting held on the 25th May last, condemning the action of the Government in keeping under custody without trial Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose, should not be cancelled under the powers vested in them.

The resolution in question reads as follows: "This Board resolves to condemn the action of the Government in keeping under custody without trial Mr. Subhas Bose, leader of All-India fame, and to request the Government to release him immediately."

The Government's notice has been included in the agenda of the Board's meeting, fixed to be held on the 16th instant.—United Press.

Moratorium, Only Remedy

CONGRESSMEN'S SUCCESS

15 Per Cent Increase In Electoral Rolls In Maharashtra

(From Our Correspondent).

POONA: July 9.

The Congress "Perfect-Roll Campaign" has been successful beyond expectation in Maharashtra. There has been an increase to about 15 per cent. in the number of voters due to efforts of Congressmen in all the eleven districts of Maharashtra. In Poona alone Congressmen had been able to enlist 16,000 new voters till this evening and the number is expected to go well up by to-morrow evening when the period for registration of voters' names expires. The women voters' list has now been doubled, the total in Poona being now 10,000, about 5,000 of them being newly-enrolled.

Women showed a great interest in this campaign, while there was noticeable a general lack of interest on the part of students.

LAST MOMENT RUSH AT POONA

Students' Apathy Towards New Franchise

POONA: July 10.

The only community which did not show any interest in the 'Perfect-Roll Campaign' was that of students, declares Mr. N.V. Gadgil, Secretary of the Maharashtra Provincial Congress Committee, reviewing the work of enrolment of voters for the new Legislatures. To-day was the last day for registration of voters here, and there was a great rush at the collector's office.

Nearly 17,000 new names are reported to have been added to the provisional list to-day. Mr. Gadgil adds that women were most enthusiastic about enrolment. Out of the 15,000 names enrolled through the Congress, nearly 4,000 were those of women, and only 400 of students.—A.P.

18,000 VOTERS FROM POONA

(From Our Correspondent).

POONA, July 10.

The total number of voters enlisted through the Congress efforts till to-day when the lists finally closed is 18,100, including a large number of women, backward classes and Harijans. About 5,000 have been enrolled through other channels.

GOKHALE'S BUST FOR POONA

City Father's Move

(From Our Correspondent).

POONA: July 10.

A proposal to perpetuate the memory of the late Hon. Mr. G.K. Gokhale by erecting a bust-size statue of that patriot at some place either in the maidan in front of Shanwar Wada or in the Budhwar Gardens, forms subject of a resolution sent to the City Municipality by Mr. Vagheere. The resolution is expected to come up before the Municipality very shortly.

IMPERIAL AIRWAYS REDUCE FARES

KARACHI, July 10.

Messrs. Imperial Airways announce a substantial reduction in fares applicable to sections of the Empire route between Karachi and Singapore to come into force on August 1, 1936.

An example of the reduction is that the fare from Delhi to Rangoon will now be Rs. 330 instead of Rs. 400.

DEBT REDEMPTION BOARDS MUST BE ESTABLISHED

Congress President To Agriculturists' Rescue

LAHORE, July 10.

"To talk of complete cancellation or repudiation of debts is to talk in the air. It has no meaning. But to talk of preserving the existing debts is even more absurd, for payment cannot be enforced when the debtor cannot pay." Declares Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru in a letter to the Secretary of the Punjab Traders' Association farther explaining his attitude on the debt question.

MORATORIUM NECESSARY

The Pandit adds: My own view is that some kind of moratorium is necessary to relieve the tension immediately. This will also give them time for proper consideration of the whole question and for new adjustment.

The Pandit suggests that debt redemption boards should be established with power to scale down the debts and interest, keeping in view the fall in prices and the paying capacity of the debtor, particular attention being paid to relieving the burden of the poorest classes.

POSITION DESPERATE

Pt. Jawaharlal thinks that steps should also be taken to consider the whole question of foreign debts which are such a burden on the whole country. He doubts if all this is possible under the British Government. The position is desperate and basic remedies are necessary.—A.P.

MALAVIYA MEETS JAWAHAR

ALLAHABAD, July 10.

Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya who reached Allahabad this morning left for Benares this evening.

During the short stay of a few hours he had long talks with Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru and Mr. Purshottamdas Tandon.

It is understood that the subject of discussion was the proposed co-operation between the Congress and the Nationalist Party during the coming elections and in the legislatures.—A.P.

PERMIT CONGRESSMEN TO ACCEPT OFFICES

Tirumangalam Conference Appeal To Working Committee

MADRAS, July 10.

Resolutions favouring acceptance of office by Congressmen and requesting the Government to repeal the Criminal Tribes Act were adopted at the Tirumangalam Taluk Political Conference opened by Mr. S. Satyamurti, M.L.A.

The Conference appealed to the Working Committee of the Congress to permit Congressmen to accept offices in the provinces where they were in a majority in legislatures.—United Press.

GOODS FLOAT IN WINDOWS

Disastrous Storm In Britain: Scores Of Shops Flooded

LONDON, July 10.

In contrast to the heatwave and drought sweeping the United States, Britain is experiencing an unusually cool and wet weather which is upsetting holiday makers and disastrously affecting cricket and other sporting events.

Eastbourne felt brunt of extensive storm this morning when thunder resembling big gun fire preceded hailstorm. Stones as big as marbles fell to a depth of two inches. The fire brigade received over a hundred calls. Stormwater flooded soprces of shops in the main street and goods floated in windows. Lightning struck the mast of pleasure steamer "Brighton Belle" approaching the pier and splintered it badly. The master on bridge and Pusser were knocked down and severely burned.—Reuter's Special

FLOOD HAVOC IN U. P.

LUCKNOW, July 10.

Alarming news of floods is pouring from different districts in the province and in Lucknow great havoc has been wrought by the incessant rain of the last four days. About 400 houses have collapsed uptil now and a large number of residents rendered homeless.

The river "Gumti" is again rising steadily and is expected to rise more.

A Sitapur message states that a small river overflowed its banks, checking the flow of a nullah into it, with the result that water reached the district jail walls. Many houses collapsed.—A.P.

SIR F. NOON ON INDIA'S PRESTIGE

LONDON, July 10.

Sir Firoze Khan Noon held his first function at India House for giving reception to Indian lady students at present touring Europe with Mrs. Datta. Welcoming "young ambassadors of India," Sir F. Noon stressed for an opportunity of making India known to Britons as also getting to understand Britishers. "One thing that really worries me is the tremendous ignorance about India. It is probably our own fault but it is up to us to enlighten the British people."

Visitors could do service to India by showing Britain the civilisation that India possessed and of which India is proud. He urged them to try and mix with the people of Britain and other countries and pick up whatever good for adoption by India, thereby enrich our own civilisation and culture. The best way of impressing Britain was by our own conduct whereby the prestige of India could be raised or lowered.—Reuter.

Amarnath Hopes To Go Back To England

RECORD PERFORMANCE WILL VINDICATE HIM?

Leaves For Bhopal Equipped With Elaborate Statement On Particular "Incidents"

Amarnath, the Indian Test Cricketer left for Bhopal on Friday evening by the Peshawar Express, to place before the Nawab the President of the Board of Indian Cricket Control all the facts that led to his "dismissal."

Large Crowd On Platform

Though his departure was kept a secret, there was a large crowd of friends and admirers present on the platform and several of them who had met with disappointment the previous day at the Mole Station lost no time in cheering and garlanding the Lahore batsman.

PREPARES HIS STATEMENT.

It would appear that Amarnath spent the whole day preparing a long statement, running into several pages, to be submitted to the Nawab of Bhopal. It is understood that he has given minute details about every incident that took place since sailing from Bombay, to show how, all those "incidents" were the result of the attitude of certain responsible persons in the team including the Captain and the Manager.

He is stated to have particularly drawn the attention of the members of the Board to the fact that record showed that he had done his best during the tour. He had been elevated to be one of the opening bowlers of the Indian team. His batting average for the first few matches showed him to be at the top. The Maharajkumar completely depended upon him both for bowling and batting in practically every match. He was overplayed and a stage came when his performance could not keep pace with the earlier ones. He was charged with having played or bowled badly intentionally to bring discredit to the Captain.

PERSONAL JEALOUSIES.

It is understood that Amarnath has requested the Cricket Board of Control to supply him a copy of the charges that have been brought against him both by the Manager and the Captain, as reasons for "dismissing" him. On going through those charges, Amarnath would submit a supplementary statement meeting all those charges.

It has been admitted that there were personal jealousies and bickerings, which could have been smoothly patched up, provided there was an Indian Manager, who would have understood the difficulties and tried his best to patch up things.

During his stay in Bombay Amarnath met several friends and well-wishers among whom was Mr Frank Tarrant, Amarnath's "guru" in Cricket.

PALMIST'S PREDICTION.

It would appear that a well-known palmist saw Amarnath's palm on Friday afternoon and emphatically stated that Amarnath would be going back to England. He staked his whole reputation on this prediction of his and Amarnath it appears is a great believer in palmistry.

After a day's stay at Bhopal, Amarnath is proceeding to Chail, the summer residence of the Maharaja of Patiala in Simla Hills.

As the train moved from the platform, everyone present, wished Amarnath good luck and expressed their confidence that justice would be done, in view of the strong case in his favour.

Delegation Of Egyptian Missionaries To Visit India

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT)

CAIRO, (By Air Mail).

The question of the appointment of an Embassy in Afghanistan was being discussed by the previous Cabinet of the Egyptian Government. The period of the Cabinet having been over the decision was postponed. It is now understood that the present Cabinet have taken the matter in hand for discussion whether the Government should appoint an Embassy there or not.

It is rumoured freely in the Palace circles of Egypt that the two sisters of H. M. King Farouk will be given in marriage to the two sons of Aziz Azad Pasha, the ex-Egyptian Ambassador in London, and a member of the Council of Regency.

An official announcement will be made shortly of the appointment of the Embassy of the Egyptian Government in Jedda, (Hedjaj).

STRANGE DISEASE IN IRAN.

A mysterious disease giving everybody an inclination to sleep, is raging in Iran. The cause of the disease has not yet been discovered.

A party of 6,000 Iraqis, it is reported, will pay a visit to the Syrian Exhibition to be held at Damascus. The Government of Syria, it is understood, will give them the benefit of a free 'visa'. This is the first time after the Great War that such a free 'visa' is granted.

The Turkish Government, it is reported, have discovered new wells producing petrol, near Morukta, a village on the frontier of Turkey and Iraq. The oil, it is said, is gushing out of the springs about 20 yards above the ground.

These oil fields are considered to be the richest in the Turkey-Iraq area. The oil springs from the soil of Iraq.

KAMAL PASHA VISITS IRAN.

It was reported that Kamal Ata Turk will pay a visit to Iran this summer, 1936

The latest information shows that the Kamal Pasha has postponed his programme of visit to January 1937.

ISLAMIC MISSION TO INDIA

The Dean of Al-Azhar University held a meeting under the auspices of the Ulemas (scholars) of the University and decided to send a deputation consisting of the leading men from among them to India for the purpose of inviting Dr. Ambedkar to enbrace Islam.

In this connection the Dean is understood to have addressed two letters to Mr. K. L. Gauba and Sir Mahomed Iqbal of Lahore.

The deputation is to arrive in India shortly.

EGYPT'S SYMPATHY FOR PALESTINE

The students of Egypt mustered strong at a meeting held under the auspices of the leading citizens there and passed resolutions regarding the present situation in Palestine.

Copies of the resolutions have been sent to H. R. H. Omar Pasha Tunsun, the patron of the Abyssinnian Welfare Associations and Nahas Pasha, the Prime Minister of Egypt.

An appeal has been made by the student community to the Prime Minister and the patron requesting them to communicate the matter to British high officials and the leading men among the Arabs for discussing the problem and settle it amicably among the Jews and Arabs.

SMUGGLERS IN TEA ARRESTED.

A gang of Greeks, carrying on trade in refuse tea thrown out as waste by consumers and cafeholders, has been arrested by the Egyptian Health authorities.

It is reported that the gang purchase the refuse tea for small sums and after drying it in the sun, treat it with colouring materials. This ready 'mixture' is sold again to consumers at competitive prices.

About 1,200 lbs. of such mixture is said to have been discovered by the authorities.

A new post under the title "Minister of the Palace" has been created by the Egyptian Government. The Minister is charged with the upkeep of the Palace.

In creating this new Ministership, Nahas Pasha, the Prime Minister made the following appeal to the Parliament of Egypt. "When I assumed the duties of Prime Minister I remarked in my letter to the Council of Regency that one new Minister for the Palace should be appointed, for the purpose of maintaining the loyalty of the people to the Palace and King. This appointment is not meant to hinder the existing duties of the other officials of the Palace."

This is the first time in the history of Egypt that such a Minister has been appointed.

Dissolution Of Punjab Council

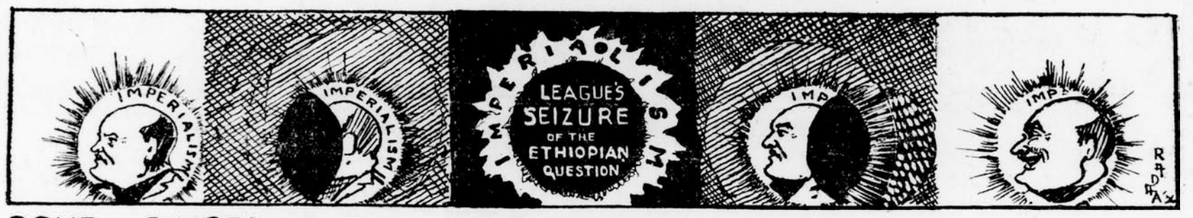
There will be as usual a session in about the third week of October at Lahore which will be its last sitting. At the close of this session, it is expected, Council will be dissolved.—United Press.



SOME PHASES OF THE LUNAR-ECLIPSE: (NOTE THE BRILLIANT CORONA DURING ECLIPSE.)

Dominions And Defence Problems

Italy In Africa May Threaten Safety Of Sea And Air Routes

(From Our Correspondent)

LONDON, (By Air Mail)

The sense of instability which Japan had spread among all the countries that are interested in the Pacific and the Indian Ocean was sharpened by the knowledge that Europe, and especially Britain, was now unable to intervene effectually in the Far East.

The establishment of Italy in Africa, after a successful defiance of the League completed what the rearmament of Germany had begun. The British Dominions, therefore, are becoming more and more concerned about their own denfence.....A section of opinion in the British Cabinet desires a settlement with Sgr. Mussolini and the bringing back of the British fleet from the Mediterranean. If it were done, the anxieties of the British Domniions would not be less. Those who are pressing this view are only anxious to across which they are watching narrowly the policy of Germany and the growth of her new fleet. In the meantime, Italy to an unknown degree, threatens the sea routes to the East and the eastern air route to the Cape, and may yet train the "black army" which is the night-mare of South Africans. Thus, for the Dominions, the League offers no shelter if Sgr. Mussolini wins, the British fleet is immobilised in Europe; the United States, building a great fleet, observes the scene; and the Dominions-wonder whether Japan (and Italy) will yet take the wings which the Chinese proverb says should not be given to tigers. Hence a lively discussion in Australia about submarines and aeroplanes, the weapons of the weak; hence the discussion in South Africa of naval expansion at Cape Town, of an air-route by the west coast and most of all of a larger force of aeroplanes. Unequalled in mobility, the aeroplane is the readies; means by which, if the worst happened, the different parts of the British Commonwealth could come to each other's air—THE "MANCHESTER GUARDIAN," MANCHESTER.

THE TWO EMPIRES

The new constitution for Abyssinia is out. Mussolini promises electric light and good motor roads—but no votes. "No form of that indirect government towards which many misguided doctrinaires show tender sentiment will be allowed to survive," announces the Dictator.

There could be no sharper challenge to the fundamental ideas which now govern the evolution of the British Empire. Painfully, ardily, and still only partially, we have striven to apply the democratic method to our vast Empire. From the British North America Act to the latest Constitution of India the tradition has been slowly but surely broadening. Now we see the rise of a new Empire which mocks at the principles of self-government and self-discipline. For the ideal of the free man is substituted the ideal of the well-fed slave. We have a simple duty as Englishmen and democrats. It is to stand firm to our own faith. We believe that it is only through the self-control of democracy, only through the joint governance of order and freedom, that civilisation can be sustained and man continue the painful but rewarding struggle of progress.—THE "STAR", LONDON.

LEAGUE AND MUSSOLINI

While the League waits without acting, Signor Mussolini acts without waiting. His newest decree expunges Abyssinia from the Fasiist map, breaks it into provinces, merges it in "Italian East Africa."

It is tragic and humiliating to look back to last October. Then the League was acting with courage and decision. Geneva had the moral ascendency over Rome. Had the advantage been pressed firmly home, victory was certain. But courage vanished, paralysis supervened; not one decision has been taken since earliest November. The cause of the demoralisation is not hard to find. It lies in Downing Street.—THE "DAILY HERALD," LONDON.

AS OTHERS SEE BRITAIN.

The tiger without claws is Britain without proper defence. Foreign policy and defences are absorbing Britain's whole attention at present.

Many Englishmen like to put the blame for the Ethiopian debacle on to France shoulders, in reality the Italians are right in saying that the main blame attaches to Britain, because Britain did not dare to give the necessary lead in Geneva owing to her inadequate defences. In contrast to the German Government which has carried out an industrial and military reorganisation of the country, the British Government is unable to come to effective decisions. But it is hardly fair to place the whole blame on Baldwin. The task requires not one man, but a separate organisation.—"BALE MACHRICHTEN," BASLE.

WAR TIME METHODS.

The methods used by the English Government to trap young Irishmen into making themselves subject to conscription in war time were revealed in a recent issue of the "Kerryman."

Several young Irishmen who have gone to England to seek employment have been asked, on applying for work at different factories, to sign a paper stating that they are British subjects. This, the "Kerryman" points out correctly, would enable the British Government to conscript them if war was declared.—"AN PHOBLACHT", DUBLIN.

BRITISH AND JEWS.

Recent international events have indicated that both the British and the Jews are fast losing prestige. The Jews now set their hope more on the Red Army of Soviet Russia, than on the British Army.

Even the British Secretary of War recently hinted that Britain could not carry on a war. In respect of her source of power this is, of course, untrue. But it is correct on the ground that Great Britain has morally and practically disarmed. Britain no longer rules the waves of the Mediterranean or of the Red Sea, and therefore, no longer has the command of the seas. Many times, I have referred to the diminishing power of the British, and now they themselves are waking up to the fact.—General Ludendorff in "AM HEILGEN PUELL."

Here is a latest Certificate from one of the sufferers, who testifies to the high efficiency and the marvellous quality of Dr. S. R. Iyengar's Medicine.

TEST THE MEDICINE AND CONVINCE YOURSELF.

Of the numerous patients cured Mrs. COOVERBAI N. BHARUCHA, Grant Road, Bombay, writes on 13-12-35.

"I was suffering from DIABETES for the last 11 years and had tried many Doctors of Bombay but without any effect. I then put myself under the treatment of Dr. S. R Iyengar and he prescribed a course of 45 days for me and that I was completely cured at the end of the course. When I commenced Dr. Iyengar's treatment my Urine was examined by the Municipal Analyst and found to be S.P. Gravity 1035 and Sugar 1.60 per cent. After the treatment and as examined by Dr. N. H. Clubwalla, M.D., B.Hy., of the Pathological Laboratory, the S.P. Gravity was 1012 and Sugar "Nil". Further I found that the weight of my body was increased by 6 lbs. for which I owe my thanks and wish him long life and prosperity for removing Sugar in my urine completely."

LUCKNOW THREATENED WITH DELUGE

Gumti River Floods Reach Danger-Zone

VILLAGES SUBMERGED AND HOUSES COLLAPSE

LUCKNOW, July 9.

As a sequel to three days' incessant rain, Lucknow is threatened with a deluge.

As a result of house collapse due to rains five persons have been killed and nearly two dozen injured uptil now. Three villages near Lucknow are already under water and the City itself is threatened with a devastating flood.

GUMTI FLOODING.

The river Gumti is in high floods and is threatening to burst the Butler Road Bund. The 'Bund' is already breached in one place, bursting the Municipal intercepting sewer and if efforts to repair the breach prove futile, the whole Butlerganj Outram Road and the surrounding areas will be flooded. Owing to breaches of serious nature the road is closed to traffic and the residents of danger zone.

VILLAGES SUBMERGED.

Bhikampur and two other villages situated on the bank of its river Gumti are under water Boats were rushed by the authorities this morning to the effected areas to rescue the marooned inhabitants. Owing to prompt measures taken to evacuate the villagers there was no casualty.

The Deputy Commissioner of Police and the Police Superintendent are guiding the housing of villagers with the help of the local school authorities. Tents have been pitched in places of safety to accommodate the people of the affected areas. Both sides of the river have been evacuated. People are taking shelter in Imambaras, Dharamshalas and school buildings vacated by the order of the Municipal authorities to house them.

100 HOUSES COLLAPSED.

While the river is threatening the city and surrounding villages, house collapses are taking a heavy toll. According to the unofficial estimate nearly 100 houses have collapsed during the last two days. This morning two persons were killed and several injured as the result of a house collapse.

Saadatganj City has received 7 inches of rain during last two days. The Gumti is a vast expanse of water and is rising rapidly. The water level has reached the danger zone.—United Press.

ANJUMANE KHAWATEENE' ISLAM

(From A Correspondent.)

A very large number of Muslim ladies responded to the invitation, and a most successful reception was held at Aiwane Rif'at on Tuesday, H. H. the Begum Saheba of Janjira presiding. A good deal of interest and enthusiasm was excited by the appeal made by Atiya Begum, who gave a vivid description of the position and status of Islamic women and their brilliant records in the past. She said: "The present downfall is totally unIslamic, and the Muslim men being very weak and hesitating the women will have to take the lead on reform in the new Muslim Era, and reinstate their right and lawful place as dictated by the glorious religion of Islam". She gave valuable suggestions for widening the scope of the Anjuman, and suggested that the very first step they had to take was safeguarding the Muslim girls' education. Other speakers were Mrs. Lookmani, Mrs. Ismail. The Princess of Belha gave a fiery little speech upholding the suggestions of Atiya Begum. H.H. the President congratulated the founder, Mrs. Sultan Asif Fyzee on establishing such a splendid Muslim ladies' organisation and also Mrs. Kazi Kaziruddin, who spoke well. Mrs. Brelvi, Secretary of the Anjuman, thanked the hosts. Baby Nafisa Benafsha Fyzee garlanded H. H. the Begum Saheba with a beautiful filigree "har". The entertainment comprised of the clever and extraordinary classical nautch and song by the child Sagheer Husain, youngest brother of the celebrated Ashid Husain. After partaking of refreshments one of the most enjoyable parties broke up at a late hour.

FOR T. U. UNITY

Federation And A.I.T.U.C. Executives To Meet On Sunday

A joint conference of the members of the Managing Committees of the All-India Trade Union Congress and the National Trade Union Federation will, it is understood, be held at Poibawdi, Parel, at 4 p.m. on Sunday the 12th instant. The question of structural Unity between the two organisations will be considered.

A move for unity has been in the air for some time past. A compromise was arrived at, it will be recalled, between the two organisation at the All-India Trade Union Congress held in Bombay in May last on the basis of Mr. V. V. Giri's proposals.

But disagreements have again crept in, it is stated and this conference is summoned to explore fresh avenues for unity.

It is the intention of the Labour leaders that whatever may be the difficulties in the way of real unity, at least, a vigorous attempt must be made to provide a common meeting ground for the two sections so that they can act together on specific issues involving the welfare of the working class.

cial Congress Committee had thousands of forms printed, for the use of persons who were duly qualified as voters. It is pointed out that in certain instances, the Government forms did not mention anything about the necessity of furnishing the age of the applicant and on the model of these forms, the forms were printed by the non-official organisation. When these forms duly filled were presented, it appears, a whole bundle was rejected on the ground that the age of the applicants was not mentioned A number of such applicants had no time to re-submit their applications and these persons intend to put in their claims. There are also other persons whose names do not appear on the rolls, but who are entitled to vote, and who have not applied for registration as voters. All these issues will be threshed out before the Election Commissioner.

IN AND AROUND — BOMBAY —

(FROM OUR STAFF CORRESPONDENTS)

Justice Must Be Done

Amarnath, the Indian Test cricketer, reached the Indian shores on Thursday evening. He left for Bhopal on Friday evening. During his stay in Bombay, he was engaged in drafting out his statement to the Board of Cricket Control in India, which will be handed over to the President. it also has been arranged that Amarnath places before the Nawab all facts which could not be put down on paper. From private conversation with one who arrived with Amarnath in the same boat, it would appear that things in England are much worse than have been reported to papers in India. It is freely talked among the chosen few who are in the know, that the responsibility for lowering the prestige of Indian Cricket in eyes of the world and the present unfortunate position that the Indian team in England is occupying, lies on the shoulders of a single person, who through his high position and influence manoeuvred the whole show. The officials of the Board seem to be very much aware of this fact and it would be in the interest of Indian cricket that all the events and facts, right from the time of the selection of the Captain and the team to tour England up to the "dismissal" of Amarnath, are fully investigated and the methods of those responsible for this disgrace on Indian Cricket are exposed. After a few minutes' conversation with Amarnath, a representative of this paper was more than ever convinced, that the Lords' incident—of which much is made—was just an excuse to send back Amarnath, whose fate, it would appear, was decided long ago.

Provisional Rolls

It is expected that by about August 11, the Provisional Rolls for the Bombay Urban constituency will be published. And during the period allotted for putting in any claims or objections, it is stated, many applicants whose applications have been rejected by the Registering Officer, intend to put in their claims before the Chief Judge of the Small Causes Court, who will sit during this period as Election Commissioner! The procedure adopted by the Registering Officer is to be questioned, as many applications were rejected on the ground that the age of the applicants was not mentioned. On the basis of the application forms supplied by the Government, the Bombay Provin-

TALK OF THE SUBURBS

(By: A SUBURBAN MAN

To-day I publish the long-awaited accounts of the Bandra Fair Fete held in aid of the Band Fund on April 12 and 13 in the municipal schools compound on Waterfield Road.

In a meeting of the Band Fund Committee held on 2nd July, I am told the accounts were placed before the members. The amount received was Rs. 3,603-12-6. The expenditure was Rs. 3,347-12-3, thus showing a profit of Rs. 256-0-3.

PRIMARY TEACHERS' PROTEST MEETING.

Under the presidentship of Mr. M. B. Sawant, Municipal Councillor of the Bandra Municipality, a meeting of the primary teachers of the Municipality was held in the premises of School No. 1 on Tuesday last.

Mr. Sawant appealed to his colleagues on the Board for sympathy and co-operation on behalf of the primary teachers.

The scale of pay for primary teachers at Bandra is much lower than that in Bombay though at some time it was higher than that in other districts but Government have now brought their scale down to the level of that enforced in other districts.

Primary education is making rapid progress in the suburbs, especially Bandra and it is hardly fair that a profession that is rendering valuable service to the citizens should be ill-paid.

This reduction has effected even the pensions of a number of teachers who retired recently, which has caused this protest meeting to be held.

Mr. V. N. Wairkar moved that telegrams be sent to the appropriate Government authorities at Poona appealing to them for a speedy settlement of this question. The resolution was seconded by Mrs. Grace Hyden and was passed. It was also decided that a committee be formed to assist the President in moving further into this matter.

BOMBAY: SATURDAY, JULY 11, 1936

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT

The observations made by the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts in his Report of the Bombay Local Audit Department for the year 1934-35 need to be seriously considered by all the local bodies concerned. It may be that the examiner has been hyper-critical and has failed to make due allowance for the many difficulties under which our local bodies labour. But in cases involving finance it is often good to err on the safe side of severity and from this point of view the Examiner's strictures, even if unduly severe, may be turned to the best account by the local bodies concerned. Indeed, the formidable list of growing arrears of taxes and other dues in municipalities can hardly be dismissed light-heartedly. These arrears, we note, rose from 31.24 lakhs to 32.12 lakhs. The worst of it is that the municipal councillors themselves are responsible for arrears amounting to Rs. 19,311. The latter amount is not by itself very large, but the real trouble is that when the Councillors themselves are in default, the municipalities cannot easily take action against other defaulters The municipalities ought to be strict in this matter and proceed against all recalcitrant defaulters impartially. However difficult this course may be, the alternatives are much worse, namely, failure to discharge obligations, or more taxation, or complete break-down.

Irregularities

Far more serious than the increase of arrears of taxes and other dues are instances of embezzlement, of which, we are told, there were thirty during the year. A few occasional cases of this kind may be unavoidable where a vast number of municipal servants are concerned. But when they are many and recurrent, they spread a demoralising influence far and wide. And it is never an excuse to say that there have been worse cases of embezzlement even among some high Government officials, only a few of which can be brought to light. Referring to irregularities in general, the Examiner observes: "All these irregularities are serious and point to an inadequate appreciation of their duties and responsibilities by those in whom the powers of supervision and control are vested. Moreover these irregularities, though mostly avoidable, recur from year to year in the great majority of local bodies. There is no doubt that for this undesirable state of affairs the inefficiency of the staff coupled with slackness of supervision and want of proper direction are mainly responsible." The criticism surely does not apply to all or many municipal councillors or servants. But it applies to more persons than one would care to admit. In the interests of self-government every attempt must be made to reduce the number.

Pratical Suggestions

In these days of depression, fresh municipal taxation is practically out of the question but municipal responsibilities steadily grow. Every local body, therefore, has to make the best of its resources by thorough economy in administrative expenditure, strict vigilance about all items of income and expenditure, and judicious investment of large balances. The Examiner has made several practical suggestions for the financial improvement of the local bodies, and they deserve to be very carefully considered. We are not unaware of the difficulties that these bodies labour under, subjected, as they are, to a kind of dual control, of the electorate on the one hand and of a non-responsible Government on the other. We are aware, too, that these difficulties are aggravated by the communal policy of Government which puts a premium on the formation of communal and ultra-loyalist factions, ever struggling to get power through the back-door influence of officials. These difficulties have now become chronic all over the country. But we must learn to fight and triumph over them. This is, indeed, one of the biggest problems that the Congress will have to solve after capturing the Councils. Local self-government must be made a reality when alone it will be a fit foundation for stable national self-government.

Montreux Conference

Sir Alexander Cadogan, one of the British representatives at the Montreux Conference, is bound to find himself shortly on the Whitehall "carpet" for his maladroit diplomacy. But he did help to provoke M. Titulescu into making a significant statement. The Rumanian Foreign Minister bluntly told him, "You are jeopardising the pacts between my country and France and the Balkan States." Therein lies the key to the whole European situation. Europe is divided into two camps. One is definitely composed of France, Russia (M. Titulescu's omission of Russia was, we think, inadvertent) the Little Entente and the rest of the Balkan States including Turkey. Russia and France are afraid of Germany, the greatest danger to Europe to-day, the others are afraid of Italy and Austria and Hungary. These countries have formed into one bloc to meet both the dangers, German and Italian. Britain does not want to join the Franco-Russian bloc because she wants, as far as possible, to remain friends with Germany and she also wants, for her own reasons, to re-establish cordial relations with Italy. Hence the palpable contradictions in her policy at Geneva and Montreux.

Hence also the so-called compromise proposals for the retention of the Straits Commission of Control: Italy and Germany would be pleased to think that Britain was trying her best to keep the Russian Black Sea Fleet bottled up and Turkey helpless to protect and defend what is undeniably hers, while France supported the proposal and Russia was complacently silent. This attitude is rather significant, since it amounts to a desertion of Turkey. The British proposal, however, was not destined to go far because of the opposition by Balkan States. And we are not surprised that Russia and France should have sponsored an amendment which is unexceptionable enough save in so far as it is based on the League Covenant, which does not exist any more. The fact is that the Dardanelles have become the subject of strategical manoeuvring among the different potential belligerents of Europe and the proceedings of the conference at Montreux serve to show the significant tendencies and alignments.

Unemployment Relief

One of the most pressing problems, if not the most formidable, awaiting solution to-day is the relief of unemployment. Though the exact extent of the evil cannot be gauged for want of statistics, it is evident that it is sapping the economic foundations of this country and making the lives of millions of people miserable. Compared with the Herculean efforts that are being made in Europe and elsewhere to tackle this grave social malady, the Government of India seem to be hardly anxious to discharge even their primary obligations in this matter. The Congress Party in the Assembly, therefore, deserve to be complimented upon their decision to raise the whole question of unemployment in a comprehensive form by means of a resolution in the Assembly. The resolution rightly recommends the formation of a Standing Committee for collecting unemployment statistics. This is, of course, a basic desideratum. It is further proposed that the State should acquire all land, which is left fallow and hand it over to the unemployed workers for cultivation under Government control. This is entirely a praiseworthy proposal and there is no reason why it should not be practicable. Of course, this is only one of the approaches to the problem and the others too must be explored without any further delay.

A CRITIC OF JAWAHARLAL

Sir Jehangir Coyaji's Views Examined

(By Rammanohar Lohia).

II.

Actuated by the belief that counter-attack is an effective form of reply, Sir Jehangir has tried to minimise the achievements of Socialist Russia. Capitalist brains, organisation and money have contributed to the growth of Russian industries and prosperity, asserts the Knight Commander. No body disputes all that but there is just a little doubt in regard to his suggestion of capitalism building up Soviet prosperity. The question is legitimate as to why this capital, this talent and technique should have been so gainfully employed only in Russia. There seems to be no other answer but that the governing principle of Russian economy is the theory and practice of socialism.

It is not the first time that Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, or, as a matter of that, any other Socialist leader has been charged with a confusion between Socialism and Communism. The shoe, however is on the other foot. It is the critics who, first, mix up socialism with social democracy and, then, compare Communism with the latter. Social democracy has, indeed, had a career of faith in evolutionary socialism and formation of coalition governments with the bourgeoisie. But social democracy is, surely, not socialism which is as little Parliamentarism as Communism is violence. The basic tenet of socialism and communism is alike and, that is, the abolition of an economy based on profit and private property through an exclusive seizure of political power.

Question of Strategy.

There is, indeed, a rather important question of strategy connected with the socialist capture of power. Which class can end capitalist economy and under whose leadership may the Socialist society be built up? Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru's answer to this quetion is supposed to be very ambiguous but, had we the patience not to lift passages out of their context, his attitude is clear. He calls for middle class leadership, as distinct from and even opposed to bourgeois leadership, in the initial stages of the developed struggle for freedom from British Imperialism. Meanwhile, the labouring masses will have trained themselves for effective leadership and the stage shall have been set for a socialist decision. It is clear that if any ambuguity arises, the critics must thank themselves for it; they do not realise the difference between the tasks of a nationalist struggle and those of a socialist movement.

"Is Socialism Possible?"

But is socialism at all possible in India? The question is varlously raised and, sometimes, the answer is given that, whatever the laws of economic development might be, the Indian people would not have socialism. The race-ethos of the Indian is different from that of the Russian, his historical experience is of an entirely different order and those numerous factors which form the 'national psychology' of the Indian people are not favourable to socialism. When such issues are raised, I am often reminded of that eminent economist, Prof. Werner Sombart, who used to treat them so skittishly. Talking about the 'national psychology' of Japan, Professor Sombart was wont to satirise that the Japanese, who were to Europeans, only three decades ago, a nation of butterflies and kimonos and sun-gods suddenly changed, after the Russian defeat, into world-Power of great military capacity and of wonderful economic efficiency. The subject of race and national psychologies is yet largely an art which may, indeed, afford high entertainment to loungers. A 'well-known Indian Economist' however, would hardly dare to make it the base of ecientific prophecies on future social changes of the country.

But is not socialism anti-religion? If it is so, it has precious little chance in a country of pilgrimages and saints and sacred rivers. Sir Jehangir considers the anti-religion of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru as the worst stumbling-block in the way of Socialist propaganda in this country. He refers us to Mahatma Gandhi who, he says has succeeded in awakening a fervent national consciousness only through an appeal to religious ideals. It is not for me to contest here that it has not been so. Even admitting that a political mind and a sense of social values have come to this country by way of religion, is it not reason enough that no further appeal to religion may be necessary? Religion may have in

OUR EUROPEAN LETTER

New French Government

Negus' "Hopeless Attempt To Save Country"

(From Our Own Correspondent)

PRAGUE, July 1.

Recent events in France have led to a concentration of attention on the position of that country. The spread of strikes and the formation of a Government recording departures from certain traditional courses and introducing some new elements have also given occasion to many glib comments and references. The impression has been awakened as though France is "down." Several carrful observers view this as not true, while recognition is made of the interest of various influential sources in causing such an impression. Circumstances as a matter of fact point largely to a different position

Fascism Submits

The new stir in France represents an advance, recording also a significant accession of strength. This is reflected also in the way the strikes have been mastered and the marked quietness that has followed the dissolution of the Fascist Leagues. The latter might appear as surprising when one recalls the noise thes Leagues made a while back, the "shows" they were used to stage and the flamboyant declarations they were accustomed to make. The Fascist Leagues in fact had no very great following in the country as a whole. They came to receive a greatly enhanced significance by a mixed show of defiance and embellishment which they were enabled to present owing to certain influential contacts and big subscriptions from some wealthy quarters. They had also their following chiefly in the fashionable parts and quarters of Paris and as such many foreigners also came somewhat easily to bestow considerably more than warranted strength to them. The order of dissolution has been taken meekly by all the Leagues, including the most important of them, "Croix de Feu," led by Count Colonel de la Rocque. It may be recalled that Colonel de la Rocque in a public speech on 9th April 1935 declared that assumption of State power by him was imminent and again on 10th June 1935 he stated that the formation of a Government of Daladier he would oppose by force. But his quietness to-day is recognition of the Government having a strong and wide basis. Count Colonel de la Rocque has now contented himself by issuing a long note in the way of protest. In this he somewhat demagogically also refers of the advance to the stage of persecution as an onward step to assumption of power, which, one notes, is selected for prominence in the German press Reviewing the position of France, an experienced Paris correspondent of a well-known Central European daily, this week, comments: "The basis of the regime in France is much, much, stronger than many in foreign countries think. Alone the run of the strikes is an instance in evidence. One can unreservedly say that any other Government in the light of such a strike movement at the time of its coming to office would have been shaken There is not absent a keen sense of discipline among wide sections. Many foreign papers, for instance the "Daily Telegraph," have thought, that France as an European factor has been set aside. This is simply ridiculous. Since a long time the country has not been so strong or vivid The country, one has the impression, is at the beginning of a regeneration."

Abyssinia At Geneva

The Abyssinian issue at present is before the League of Nations It has as a matter of fact been before the League long. Now only in a new form. The last speech of Mr. Eden in the House of Commons has removed any expectation of London taking an assertive stand now for the Negus or Abyssinian independence Haile Selassie's presence in Geneva has raised much interest, but no exaggerated political significance is attached to it. The Emperor himself would seem to be cognizant of this. One paper describes him as a "sad and broken man." Another daily writes: "In Geneva the Negus has come to make, what must be clear to himself, an hopeless attempt to save Abyssinia. He will return to England from Geneva and probably for the while decide to stay in an English town, after Switzerland has refused to let him take occupation of a villa near Geneva till the conflict with Italy is definitely cleared." A local paper's Geneva special correspondent refers to Negus at Geneva as "a lonely and abandoned figure" sitting in his hotel overlooking the new League palace. Also "he who came with hope to Geneva may have to get reconciled to the idea that the new palace stands over the ruins of Abyssinia." Meanwhile an issue discussed much is the reform of the League. British attitude is held as recording to an extent an advance to the idea of regional pacts with less enthusiasm to that of general collective security which to a degree implies an approach to German opinion as against that greatly favoured by France, Soviet Union and the Little Entente. There are also some references to a tendency among South American States to get loose from the League, which would go to give a greater emphasis to the League's European character.

Sport And Colour

The victory of the German boxer Max Schmeling over Joe Louis is given enormous prominence in the German press. It is celebrated as more than a sport victory "Schwarze Korps," the organ of S.S. (Nazi Security Guards), comments:—"It was more than a boxing match. Here black and white confronted each other. Foes of Nazi Germany reckoned on the

FRANKLY SPEAKING

A SOUND SUGGESTION

In the course of an interview with a representative of the "Chronicle" on the transfer of Aden to the Colonial Office Mr. Husseinbhoy A. Laljee expressed a hope that under its new administration as a Crown Colony it will continue to have whatever measure of local self-government it now enjoys. At present Aden possesses a municipality, a Port Trust and an Education Department, which under the new dispensation will be controlled by a nominated Advisory Council. Mr. Husseinbhoy makes the suggestion that instead of a nominated body there should be a small elected Legislative Council. It is a sound suggestion and Indians should wholeheartedly support it. It is also the duty of the Government of India to see, as Mr. Husseinbhoy urges, that those who have been with us so long should not be allowed to lose their birthright of constitutional progress.

ELECTION MANOEUVRE

Pundit Jawaharlal Nehru has taken more serious notice of the critics of Congress finances than the critics deserved. Criticism on recent accounts may have to be answered repeatedly, but that on the old Tilak Swaraj Fund need not be taken so seriously. The very fact that persons who were silent when all the audited statements about that Fund were before the public now suddenly "prowl about trying to find out what happened fifteen years ago" shows that their criticism is not 'bona fide' but unworthy election tactics. However, the publi should note that the Congress accounts, old and new, are alwe open for inspection by all 'bona fide' inquirers. It is also well at the Congress President has wned all malicious critics tha If defamatory statements co inue to be made, they will have o be challenged in a law court.

SMART WORK!

We have no doubt that he efficient and energetic Secrary of the Indian Cricket Boa of Control must be congratuting himself on the smart pie of work that he did on Thursy evening. The complete succes with which he "got" Amarnath and spirited the famous cricket away from the ship deserves bouquet from the Police author es of Bombay who could not o the job better. But to be s ous, does Mr. D'Mello really th k that by his conduct on the Mole he has enhanced to prestige of the Cricke Board of Control or done an invaluable service to Major Brittain-Jones and Maharajkumar of Vizianagram? Has he really no imagination to realise that his ridiculous nervousness has defeater the very object he wants to erve? For it is a fact that the melodramatic arrest and gagging of Amarnath has intensifie public feeling against those wom he seeks to protect.

WHY THIS SUPERSESSION?

The Primary Teache's' Association, Bombay, has made a representation to the Mayor pointing out that the Scho s Committee recently appointd two junior teachers as Educational Supervisors, superseding many who were senior to im. The Association also point out that the Committee "gve absolutely no consideration o the recommendation of their Secretary", who is the Head f the Executive and who knows best the efficiency and the claims of the teachers under him. If se persons appointed have any special qualifications not possessed by their numerous seniors r if there are any special reasons for not considering the recommendation of the Secretary, he Schools Committee will do well to mention them. If ther is no satisfactory explanation for what seems to be a wrong procedure in making the appointments, it will be necessary for the Corporation to consider the matter more thoroughly.

PRECEPT AND PRACTICE.

The presidental address of the Gaekwar of Baroda at the World Conference of Faiths is illuminating as well as refreshing enough. The appeal of the Gaekwar for universal toleration and brotherhood is really commendable. He quotes the definition of a universal religion from ancient Hindu history as faith in a truly moral life, universal friendship, charity and good will; and he remarked that in ancient times Hindu monarchs encouraged the observance of the principles of this universal religion among the adherents of different faiths in their kingdoms. But what, one may wonder is the practical attitude of many of the rulers of modern Indian States towards this ideal? They are too busy with their engagements in foreign countries or in sports and other pleasure-seeking activities in their own States to encourage principles of the universal religion as propounded by the ancient Hindu monarchs. The Gaekwar also appealed that the simple moral tenets common to all religions should be made a common ideal in our dealings between man and man and nation and nation. But how far this ideal is adopted in dealings between the Indian princes and their subjects is a question which needs no answer. The Gaekwar concluded his address with the famous words of Abraham Lincoln. "With malice towards none, with charity for all; with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right—let us strive on to finish the work we are in." One remembers the position and plight of States' subjects, one remembers the manner in which they are treated, one also remembers how their demands for very elementary rights of brotherhood are dealt with, and one feels like asking His Highness what is his own conception of "right as God gives us to see the right." And one also feels like asking if an ounce of genuine practice is not worth more than a pound, or, shall we say a ton, of high and noble profession.

Needless Severity

To The Editor of "The Chronicle"

Sir,—If one reads between the lines about Amarnath's interview appearing in your paper to-day, it would be clear that the authorities on the spot have hopelessly bungled. The punishment meted out to Amarnath is not only harsh but it is wrong both on logical and historical grounds. Who but a fool would have thought of sending back Nobby Clarke to England after the disgraceful episode at Ceylon during the M. C. C. tour in 1932? But where Jardine succeeded in avoiding dissensions or ugly developments in the team, Vizzy hopelessly failed. I have stated that the authorities are guilty of a logical blunder of the first magnitude. The argument (and this is in defence of Amarnath) may be briefly stated as follows. Either Amarnath repeatedly misbehaved or he did not. If the former, then his misconduct called for some kind of light punishment at a much earlier stage. On the contrary it was noticed that Amarnath was included in every match that was played, i.e., his alleged misconduct was not thought to be of so grave a nature as to merit any serious attention. If his misconduct was not of a serious nature, then the drastic punishment meted out to him is inexplicable and indefensible. The inevitable conclusion is that Amarnath could not be said to have misbehaved and the marching orders given to him were entirely wrong.

Amarnath will be very shortly in our midst and will, I am sure, dash to Bhopal to place before the Nawab all the relevant facts of the case. Let us hope that the Nawab would give him a just and equitable hearing.—Yours etc.

Britain Branded As Double-dealer

Dardanelles Conference Marred

"You Adopt One Policy At Geneva And Another Here," Says Titulescu

MONTREUX, July 9.

A heated scene between M. Titulescu and the British delegation marred the Dardanelles Conference during the consideration of a Russian amendment to the British draft convention.

The amendment declares that the convention shall not infringe the rights and obligations of the contracting parties as members of the League of Nations and preserves freedom of passage through the Straits of warships engaged in giving assistance against the aggressor under the Covenant, or supplementary agreements within the framework of the Covenant.

M. Titulescu, although he was not present when the British view was explained, demanded, when he arrived late, information regarding the British attitude, and said: "You adopt one policy at Geneva and another here, where you are doing your best to destroy mutual assistance and regional pacts."

Sir Alexander Cadogan replied that, as a matter of courtesy, he would explain that there was no foundation for that statement, whereupon M. Titulescu, violently interrupting, said:— "It is not a matter of courtesy. You are jeopardising the pacts between my country and France and the Balkan States."

MINISTERIAL CRISIS AT BUCHAREST.

M. Titulescu then left to catch a train for Bucharest, where there seems to be the prospect of a ministerial crisis. The British delegation has not rejected the Russian proposal, but has pointed out the difficulties which might arise. The proposal is certain to receive the support of France and the Balkan States.

INDO-JAP PARLEYS OPEN IN SIMLA

Negotiations For Agreement To Commence On July 16

SIMLA, July 10.

The non-official delegation on the Indo-Japanese Agreement met in the Finance Committee room this morning and presented a memorandum to Mr. T. A. Stewart setting forth their views on it.

After discussion to-day, there will be a conference to-morrow at which Sir Zafrullah Khan, Sir Frank Noyce and Sir Jagadish Prasad will also be present. Thereafter, the members of the non-official delegation will be leaving for their respective stations.

In view of the unanimous nature of their statement, it is not likely that they will be called again during the negotiations stage which commences next week.

Mr. Okumara and two other Technical Experts to advise Mr. Yonezawa, the Japanese Consul-General, are arriving here to-morrow afternoon, as also Mr. Cunningham of the British Embassy at Tokio, who will help the Government of India delegates in interpreting the Japanese conversations.

Move For Negotiations

Negotiations are expected to commence on 16th instant in Mr. Stewart's room, Commerce Department, between Mr. T. A. Stewart on the Government of India side and Mr. Yonezawa on behalf of Japan.

During the negotiations, members of the Economic sub-committee of the Viceroy's Executive Council, namely, Sir Zafrullah Khan, Sir James Grigg, Sir Frank Noyce and Sir Jagadish Prasad will join supported by the experts, Sir Bryce Burt and Dr. Mathai, while on the Japanese side, Mr. Okumara and two other textile experts will participate.

It is not known how long the negotiations will last, but they are not likely to exceed one month.——A. P.

HOWRAH BRIDGE CONTRACT

100 Per Cent Indian Firm Eliminated

(From Our Special Correspondent)

SIMLA, July 10.

Enquiries among commercial leaders now in Simla show keen disappointment felt at the extraordinary action of the Howrah Bridge Commissioners in recommending that the work of such a unique nature as the Howrah bridge should be entrusted to a non-Indian firm. They state that this non-Indian firm was allowed to vary the original tender twice while the Indian Combine refrained from such subsequent variation.

INDIAN FIRM ELIMINATED.

The net result of the recommendation is the elimination out of the contract of the only 100 per cent. Indian firm which had tendered for the foundations worth 80 lakhs. Any contractor has necessarily to use Indian labour, sandstone and cement, but what India demands is not only the employment of labour but the direction and control of big jobs such as this which come scarcely once in a life time. While this Indian firm has secured all important foundations publicly advertised during the last twelve years for what is called "all-in" contract system, the Howrah Bridge Commissioners have in this case for the sake of eight and half per cent. given the work to a non-Indian firm. The Bengal Government's own resolution of 1932, provides for a price preference 5 per cent. in favour of Indian effort. The excess, therefore, of the Indian tender is only 3½ per cent. Practically every Government Department in India has voluntarily given price preference exceeding 5 per cent in many cases, but the Howrah Commissioners have on the plea of cheapness given the contract to a non-Indian firm.

NOT YET TOO LATE.

The cheapest tender was from a German firm. The Bridge Commissioners found excuse for excluding the German firm on the ground of a possible war in Europe. If there's war in Europe it would also affect a British firm so far as passage of steelwork in the Mediterranean is concerned. This fact was forcibly brought out by the Indian Bridge Commissioners, but the other Commissioners found it convenient to eliminate the German firm also and bestow the contract to a British firm. It is not too late for the Government of India to rectify the serious injustice to Indian effort. It goes against Bengal Government's definite assurance in the Council regarding feeling in the country for keeping such a unique job within the country itself.

Birth Of A New Spirit In Old Delhi

How The Transport Strike Originated And Why It Succeeded

Communalists Completely Discomfited

(From Our Special Correspondent)

DELHI, July 9.

Few people outside Delhi fully realize the importance of the memorable and exciting scenes that are being enacted these days in this age-old city. Nothing like it has ever been witnessed by even the oldest among the 'Delhiwalas,' many of whom to-day find themselves moved by entirely new emotions into channels of thought and action that they had hitherto regarded as quite alien to their temperament and tradition. A whole population, steeped in centuries old ideas and having its roots somewhere in the mediaeval times, has suddenly become conscious of a new urge.

ORIGIN OF STRIKE.

Like many other great moments of historic importance, the recent transport strike in Delhi spontaneously grew out of minor issues and smaller grievances which, by accumulation, gained both momentum and strength. The city carters whose bullocks carts (or 'thelas') are the chief means of commercial transport in Delhi were the first to feel the pinch of high taxes which made it almost impossible for them to earn anything for themselves inspite of hard labour. All the rules governing the payment of these taxes made the lot of the carters miserable, indeed! And on the top of all this certain roads in New Delhi were tabooed for plying of iron-tyred carts, thus limiting the sphere of activity of the carters and further reducing their meagre incomes. The tonga-drivers had their own grievances; even during the scorching months of May and June and the monsoons they are not provided with stands; they were burdened with taxes.

Donkey and mule-owners, whose animals bear a considerable burden of the local transport trade, had also many complaints regarding taxation and fines and they too immediately joined the carters and the 'thelawalas' to voice their protest against the existing order of things.

COMPLETE STRIKE.

Beginning with a complete hartal by the 3,000 tongawalas on the 1st July, the entire transport system including lorry-drivers, transport coolies and porters, struck work and presented their joint demands to the Municipal authorities. It is most significant that these demands, besides redress of specific trade grievances, included a demand for at least two special seats on the Municipal Committee.

MEMORABLE WEEK

It was a memorable week. Each day the strikers in their thousands would parade the streets shouting slogans, carrying flags, banners and posters. Tongawalas would be riding their horses, carters leading their bullocks, mule and donkey-owners with their respective animals. It was a strange but grand cavalcade, symbol of a new spirit that has shook Delhi to its age-old foundations. The public were all along in full sympathy with the strikers and would whole-heartedly join their processions and meetings. Fraternal greetings would be offered to processionists in the form of refreshments and 'sherbet' and, despite the inconvenience naturally caused to citizens on account of the strike, there was not a touch of bitterness in the atmosphere. Everyone seemed to realize and appreciate the justice of the strikers' demands. And so it went on for a whole week while Municipal Councillors held meetings, frantic messages were exchanged between Simla and Delhi and Simla and Whitehall and the police kept up a huge bandobust—mostly wholly unnecessary. The Municipality accepted most of the strikers' terms but the strikers would not resume work till all the New Delhi roads had been opened for the carters.

SIXTH OF JULY.

With the sixth of July dawned on Delhi the day of the greatest hartal of its history. To demonstrate public sympathy with the strikers, fighting for their just and equitable rights, the city declared a suspension of business the like of which has seldom before been seen. With the exception of hospitals, dispensaries and doctors' consulting rooms that had been exempted, not a single shop, business house or trading concern was open in the city. Miles and miles of bazars were deserted, the locked shops bearing eloquent testimony to public concern for the strikers. A mammoth meeting was held in the evening attended by tens of thousands of men and women, belonging to every community and class, and the sky was rent with shouts of "Inquilab Zindabad" and "Bande Matram."

COMMUNALISTS DISCOMFITED.

Among the other miracles performed by this strike is the complete eclipse of the professional communalists who I daresay are sorely discomfited by the cordial, and comradely relations that exist these days between the members of all communities especially among the workers. Communal politics have been completely relegated to the background while economic questions are more and more coming to the foreground. The strikers, belonging to different communities, are, of course, united in their economic demands and are fighting shoulder to shoulder. But example is influencing the general population also and complete harmony exists between the members of all communities in Delhi. In the processions it is a common sight to find Hindu, Muslim and Sikh walking arm in arm, drinking water from the same vessels and otherwise fraternizing in the most cordial manner. Never before, except for some time during the non-co-operation movement been the different communities of Delhi brought so near each other and, if for nothing else, this strike would be memorable for having brought about communal unity.

VICTORY AT LAST.

Victory came at last and on most of their demands having been accepted by the Government and the Municipality the Strike was called off. A huge procession, four miles long, in which the strike-leaders were carried on 'thelas,' was taken out to celebrate the victory and at its termination, the National Flag and the Red Flag were saluted. The Congress Committee was specially thanked for the generous support it rendered to the strikers throughout. The strike leaders, while congratulating the workers, told them not to feel that their task had not been accomplished but they should remember that unless the authorities practically carried out their promises, they must not sit idle.

And thus ended the Delhi transport strike which has done more than almost anything else to create a new consciousness in Delhi.

What Bombay Lacks

A REGULAR PLAN FOR BUILDING THE CITY

What Our Readers Say

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—Many thanks for your invitation to give my suggestions for making Bombay Brighter. I must congratulate you on launching this campaign as it is high time we as well as our representatives on the municipality realise that the "Urbs prima in Indis" has no claim to be prima unless she gives an adequate return, for the money she takes from her citizens by way of taxes. The greatness of a city is measured by the greatest amount of happiness pleasure and comfort it can give to all its citizens and not by the number of rich people it harbours on the general expensiveness of its life. It is by this measure that I would like to test Bombay

From the money collected from the citizens by way of taxes what do they get in return? Firstly insufficient education which goes under the name of primary education. It is entirely inadequate to make the child a useful citizen in future. Then they receive medical relief which for a large city like Bombay it is not enough. The municipality has constructed roads, but have they improved the roads in the heart of the city or even widened them? Above all what housing facilities it has provided for the poor or even for its own employees?

What Bombay lacks is a regular plan for building the city. There seems to be no town planning done. Houses are allowed to be built anyhow. All available land is used for building purposes. No provision is made for building houses for the poor where chawls have been built for them, no thought has been given to the minimum requirements of a family to live in comfort. In many of these municipal chawls no arrangements for electric lighting are made. Sanitary arrangements are equally poor. Tenants are not encouraged to use coal which would save the building from wood smoke. Housing is not made cheap enough for the poor with the result that the chawls are overcrowded, numbers of people crowding in small rooms the space being sub-let.

With regard to building in better areas, houses are allowed to be built anyhow. No space or very little space is kept between two buildings. Even here there is no plan to lay down the minimum standard of comfort for the benefit of the tenant. The landlords are allowed to ask for exhorbitant rents

In a well planned town one would find open spaces carved out in the most congested areas of the city. These spaces to be made into small parks or play grounds for the use of children and of old people. These are few open spaces in the crowded parts of Bombay and in the most congested areas there are none. Where there are such open spaces they are so badly kept that they become mere dumping grounds for dirt.

In a well planned city there would be parks and amusement grounds for the public. In Bombay with the exception of the Victoria Garden, the Pherozshah Mehta Garden and the Shiwaji Park there seem to be no suitable places for amusement or recreation of the public. Inspite of Bombay being an island there are no public swimming baths or other sea side amusements for the benefit of the people. For the cultured public, the Urbs prima in Indis cannot provide a decent Art gallery, a public library or even a public theatre.

Those who wish to make Bombay Brighter cannot overlook these things. Bombay can only be bright when it can make its citizens bright and happy.—Yours, etc.

July 9.

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—I am glad that "Chronicle" has started "Brighter Bombay" campaign which I assume is designed not only to educate the public to the menace of unhygienic practices but also to induce the landlords to provide the following amenities necessary for our city's health and morale:

1. Repair rickety and shattered buildings—roof, walls ceiling, floors, etc.
2. Replace old and broken glasses and panels, etc., in doors and windows.
3. Repair sagging doors and windows, frames, etc.
4. Paint and whitewash all houses both in and out.
5. Remove old and dirty gunny bag awnings and replace with new awnings especially made for that purpose.
6. Disinfect the entire surrounding belonging to the landlord.
7. Instal proper electrical fittings in the building.
8. Provide lighting arrangement in the passage way.
9. Instal telephone wherever it is mostly needed.
10. Demolish all useless and blighted buildings.
11. Repair aid cement all footpaths, leading to owner's property.
12. Build permanent houses according to a drawn out Town Planning scheme.—Yours, etc.

"Hornby Vellard Tragedy"

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—With reference of "the Hornby Vellard Tragedy" and with your remarks thereto in today's issue I may point out that unless speedy and drastic measures are taken, the Hornby Vellard will remain a nightmare and death-trap to motorists. I have been hammering at this question for the last two years and if notices of motion given by me on this subject had been properly understood and appreciated by the councillors these tragedies would not have occurred.

Hornby Vellard was not at all dangerous for motor traffic until a singular action was taken by the Corporation. Two causes prominently contribute towards these mishaps I may briefly state the history of these.

The Concrete Association of India made a proposal to the Corporation that they would make a free gift of cement of the value of Rs 31,000 for the purpose of making a road in a prominent part of Bombay on condition that the work of the construction of the road was carried out according to the design, specification and under the supervision of the representative of the said Association. The object of the offer of the Association was to save the Municipality the cost of covering the surface with asphalt. The Association claimed that the road constructed with cement only for the surface on the lines of their method would be quite good and the cost of asphalt would be saved. The Corporation in the first instance, proposed a certain road for this exteriment at Parel but this did not meet with the approval of the Association as they wanted to have a road which would give 'wide advertisement for concrete road construction expected from its use on a popular thoroughfare" and the Association ultimately approved the Hornby Vellard.

The old road was flanked on the seaward side by masonry work of the bund all throughout its length of about a foot and a half in height; on the top of of which was the frame of the wooden railing. When the new construction of the road was taken in hand the level of the road in several places, particularly towards the south end, was raised and brought almost in a level with the masonry work which served as a principal safeguard. This is the first source of danger and it will continue to do so until a strong wall of sufficient height is put in place of wooden railing which is absolutely useless from the point of view of affording any protection to a vehicle dashing against it with moderate force.

The second danger came on the scene with the creation of the smooth cement surfaced road without asphalt. Your correspondent T. 4600 who says "that the smooth surface of the asphalted road thereupon becomes skiddy" is labouring under a wrong impression. There is no asphalt whatsoever on this road and with gradual user the surface of this road will be as smooth and polished as the Tandur foot-path pavements have proved in the city. As a result of several falls these pavements have got to be notched out. It need not be stated that a road surface treated with asphalt gives some grip to the motor tyre.

Anticipating both these dangers I have done my best to ventilate my views on the subject in the Corporation but I am sorry to say that remedial measures have not yet been taken up in hand as, perhaps, it is felt sufficient tragedies have not occurred. I enclose herewith a copy of the notice of motion on the danger of smooth surface of the Hornby Vellard moved by me only a few months back in the Corporation. It is hoped that the Corporation will take speedy measures to put up a wall which would at least prevent the cars from going into the sea.—Yours, etc.,

K. H. GOREGAOKER.

July 8.

"That the attention of the Commissioner be drawn to the statement appearing in the issue of the "Bombay Chronicle" of the 7th August 1935, under the heading 'Motorists and Hornby Vellard Road' and he be requested to report through the Works Committee:—

1. Whether the present smooth and risky surface of the said road is not the result of the Corporation having fallen a victim to the offer of the Concrete Association of India of a free gift of cement of the value of Rs. 31,000 on condition that the work of the construction of the said road was carried out according to the design, specification and under the supervision of the representatives of the said Association, solely made with the object of obtaining for the said Association 'wide advertisement for concrete road construction expected from its use on a popular thoroughfare of the type of Hornby Vellard.

3. Whether it is desirable to take any immediate measures to make the surface of the said road safe for motor traffic, and
3. What should be the policy to be adopted to make the surface of conceret roads, made hereafter, safe to the public."

Indo-Japanese Agreement

To The Editor of "The Chronicle"

Sir,—The Indo-Japanese trade is a matter of slow steady growth between two of the greatest countries in the Eastern Hemisphere, and in these days of acute trade depression all round, the existing trade currents must not be disturbed lightly. It is to be hoped that the negotiations will be conducted in a spirit of the utmost cordiality and goodwill on either side, more with a view to bridge differences and to accommodate to the needs of each other rather than in a spirit of hard-bargaining to get the utmost out of the other party. All offensive and irresponsible talks about dumping, smuggling boycott and such like phrases must be carefully brushed aside. The negotiation will have achieved their object if they lead to an increase of trade and mutual goodwill rather than set restrictions or erect barriers against the free flow of trade either way, with the possible limit that the imports and exports between the two countries should balance each other within certain limits and no quotas fixed in favour of certain of our Industries to the detriment of others.—Yours etc.

Motor Accidents

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—The people of Bombay deplore the repeated occurrence of fatal motor car accidents and expect Police officers to catch and prosecute reckless drivers, as well as people who drive in a state of drunkenness, and people who drive without licence. They also expect Police magistrates to inflict exemplary punishment on offenders. Some of them further expect Government to make loitering on the public road, as well as walking on the wrong side of the road punishable by law.—Yours etc.,

Howrah Bridge Contract Is Final

No Chance Of Government Intervention In Favour Of Indian Combine

SAFEGUARDS FOR INDIAN STEEL

(Special To "Chronicle")

BOMBAY, July 10.

"The Howrah Bridge Commissioners have accepted the tender of Messrs Cleaveland Bridge and Engineering Company for the construction of the bridge. The speculation that the Bengal Government will interfere at this stage in favour of the Indian Combine is baseless and misleading. The Board of Commissioners is a self-governing body and the sanction of the Bengal Government is only formal. The Government can go against the decision of the Board, only if there are gross irregularities like the contract going to an unsound party. In this case, there is absolutely no ground for Government interference. Thus a British firm has won the "two-crore Derby"—thanks to the British section of the Bridge Commissioners."

Thus observed a prominent Calcutta businessman to the representative of the "Bombay Chronicle".

INDIAN STEEL CO.

The Board of Bridge Commissioners consists of fourteen Europeans and five Indians. Though the Indian section lost the battle on the issue of the contract going to the Indian Combine, it should be said to their credit that they won it on the major issue of the use of Indian steel for the works. The contract has been given to the Cleavelands subject to the condition that they will have to purchase all available steel from Indian manufacturers at "a reasonable rate". If there be any difference of opinion between Indian manufacturers and the Cleavelands about the "reasonable rate", the decision of the Bridge Commissioners will be binding. If the Indian manufacturers refuse to accept the Bridge Commissioners' decision, the Cleavelands are at liberty to import foreign steel.

Out of 16,000 tons of steel which the works will require, it is understood that about 3,000 tons will have to be imported from England, even if the contract had gone to the Indian Combine. That quality will not be available in Inda. Under the terms of the contract, the Cleavelands will have to buy the bulk of steel from India, and thus the interest of the Indian industry is safeguarded. Of course, much depends upon the attitude of the Bridge Commissioners, in case there is a dispute about "reasonable rate" between the Cleavelands and the Indian manufacturers. Incidentally the Indian cements, paints and engineering firms will get their own quota from the Cleavelands.

SIRKAR'S EFFORTS

There have been many interesting episodes in the prolonged negotiations between the Bridge Commissioners and the three leading tenderers. The Krupps whose tender was the lowest was lose-shunted on the bogey of political troubles in Europe, though one of the Indian Bridge Commissioners, voted for the Krupps. The Indian section put up a tough fight for the acceptance of the tender of the Indian Combine. When the scales were overweighted against the Indian Combine, on account of the European majority in the Board, Mr. Nalini Ranjan Sarkar made a heroic effort to save it by proposing that the Indian Combine might be asked to scale down their rates to 220 lakhs and their tender must be accepted if they complied with the request. The Indian Group backed Mr. Sarkar's proposal, though the European Group opposed it on the flimsy ground of "sanctity of tenders".

"ROCK OF EXPERTS"

Next came the proposal of Mr. Khaitan to refer: (1) shorter span, (2) lighter roadways, and (3) mass and pile foundation to experts, and accept the scheme, if the experts favoured it. Mr. Khaitan's proposal had the support of Europeans and it was finally on the rock of experts that the Indian Combines scheme was ship-wrecked.

On an analysis of tenders, it will be seen that the Indian Combine quoted 144 lakhs for superstructure, while the Cleavelands quoted 152 lacks for the same. It was only in quotation for sub-structure, it was alleged, that Indian Combine's quotation was overloaded. This increase was mainly due to the efforts of the Combine to make sub-structure impregnable, in view of the vagaries and ravages of the Hooghly. It was only the Indian Combine which had the scientific view-points and expert personnel necessary for arriving at the correct length of the span.

The Indian Combine is the best example of Indo-British Co-operation in recent times and the fact that the scheme was thrown into the Hooghly is a glaring instance of British preference.

FUTURE OF UNIONISTS

Will Sir Sikandar Hayat Khan Return To Politics?

(From Our Correspondent).

SIMLA, July 10.

News of Sir Fazli Hussain's death which reached Simla this morning was received with widespread regret. As it is only a little more than a year since he handed over the stewardship of the Education Department of the Government of India, the official circles here still retain intimate memories of his forceful personality and work. It is difficult to think of a more towering figure in Indian politics which the Montford Reforms brought to the forefront—bearing in many ways a close resemblance of the career of the Raja of Panagal, who rose to an equal prominence in South India. Sir Fazli had a driving force, political shrewdness, great administrative ability but as his vision was blurred by a sinister type of communalism he stultified his own usefulness and the larger interests of the country.

During his term as a Member of the Government of India he was, however, able aided by his equally zealous lieutenant Sir G. S. Bajpai, to advance the cause of Indian overseas.

REPERCUSSION ON UNIONISTS

It is difficult to foresee the effect of this death on the future of the Unionist Party and the course of Muslim politics in the Punjab. The sudden removal of this towering personality no doubt creates a void difficult to fill but shrewd political observers think that if Sir Sikandar Hayat Khan returns to politics he will succeed in keeping the Unionist forces together. It also remains to be seen whether Mr. Jinnah's group will now make a bid for ascendancy. Though Sir Fazli Hussain's death is undoubtedly a calamity of the first magnitude to the Unionist Party and removes from the field a man of considerable political power and energy opinion in Simla holds that the present course of politics in the Punjab will continue and its immediate effect will be to hasten the return of Sir Sikandar.

"TUDOR ROSE"

At The Excelsior

Accredited history is ever a tricky subject for the film producer, yet in this latest page Gainsborough are entitled ta our plaudits both on the courage and the considerable scope of their achievement. The picture takes us back to those eventful times following on the death of Henry VIII when the two scheming Seymours are eventually ousted by the even more crafty Earl of Warwick, and when the latter's machinations instal the youthful Lady Jane Grey on the throne for a crowded hour before she, too, is sacrificed on the block of political intrigue.

One of the most vivid pages in the entire history of England, it is here authoritatively decked out with all the pomp and pageantry of the English court in those days, with occasional shots of such landmarks as the Tower and Windsor Castle to emphasise the prevailing realism in the "Tudor Rose" seen from this week at the Excelsior theatre. Yet the picture's main interest and appeal lies in the strength and variety of the historical incident. One readily comprehends, for instance, the ambitious rascality of the two Seymours, so that one almost sympathises with the triumph of Warwick in sending them to their doom on Tower Hill.

Warwick himself, however, is an even more sinister figure of intrigue. He it is who foresees the death of the pathetic boy king, Edward vi a childishly regal symbol whose puny attempts at domination supplies by no means the least emotional aspect of the narration. Warwick's foresight results in the marriage of his son, Dudley, to the hapless Lady Jane Grey, another poignant victim of a court system she is unable to comprehend, yet it is this very master stroke that proves Warwick's undoing. For the single-purposed Mary rallies her armies when Lady Jane is declared queen on the death of the young Edward, and her first act on her accession is to send Warwick and Lady Jane to the scaffold.

Distinctive in it's spacious settings of truly regal apartment and in it's compelling atmosphere of scheming in high places, the film is no less meritorious in the strength and fidelity of it's characterisations. Most arresting, perhaps, are the pathetic figures of the boy King, played with artistic insight by young Desmond Tester, and of the unhappy Lady Jane Grey presented by Nova pilbeam with all that wealth of wistful immaturity which the character de-

"THE TRAIL OF THE LONESOME PINE"

At Pathe

The picture in colour, exquisite colour, "The Trail Lonesome Pine" now runs its second week at Pathe. No wonder. It's a picture that sets a very touching human drama of civilization against the background of some of the loveliest of landscapes—breathing the peace and poetry of a primitive and withal a passionate people.

Henry Fonda as a young woodman whose death ends the feud is the effective foil to the hero, Fred MacMurray as a determined young engineer wins the girl Sylvia Sydney interprets the naively candid mountain girl to perfection. Her love starts all the fighting and the killing, while little Spanky McFarland provides one of the most pathetic sequences in the picture.

They are ably supported by Fred Stone, Nigel Bruce and Richard Carle.

"Tudor Rose", great historical Romance at the Excelsior this week.

"EAST OF JAVA"

At The Globe

Packed with action which went from gunplay to ship-wreck and from typhoons to battles between human beings and wild beasts, Universal's "East of Java," the picture in which Charles Bickford was nearly killed by a lion, is now running at the Globe Talkies.

Love interest was supplied by Bickford, who centred his interest in beautiful Elizabeth Young, and Frank Albertson, who also loved her, at the same time hating the brutish and at times almost animal-like strength of Bickford, disciple of the doctrine of the "survival of the fittest."

The story opens with Bickford, a fugitive from "G" men because of gangster activities in the United States, fleeing the port of Simba Sao, British East Africa, because he knows a warrant for his arrest and extradition is arriving by the next steamer.

Photograph is excellent, taking advantage of the unusual backgrounds which lend to credulity on the part of the audience. The veteran George Melford has turned in a superlative job of direction. It is evident that vast research and many thousands of dollars play a part in making the production the thriller that it is. Noteworthy is the handling of the animals from a humane standpoint as well as from the angle of "thrills."

Mr. D. J. Javeri, a well known jeweller and expert in Indian precious stones, Hony. Secretary of the Association for the Preservation of Wild Life, Bombay and the Director of the All-India Educational Talkies Limited, Bombay proceeded to Europe last week to bring in closer touch and happier business relations with the international film world.

mands. Convincing, too, are the brothers Seymour of Leslie Perrins and Felix Aylmer, the latter an especially realistic portrayal of sinister craftiness, while Cedric Hardwicke's Earl of Warwick is another vividly colourful portrait of brutal omnipotence.

The smaller parts are also creditably sketched, in, and particularly effective are the Henry VIII of Frank Cellier, the "Bloody" Mary of Gwen Francon-Davies, and the patient serving-woman of Sybil Thorndike. Full marks should go to John Mills for the buoyand light-heartedness of his Dudley, although little is seen of the character, of course, until well towards the end.

"East of Java" at the Globe Cinema this week.

"LA VIE PARISIENNE"

At The Capitol

The spirit of Paris, city of romantic dreams and gaiety, is brought to the screen in "La Vie Parisienne" showing at the Capital from Saturday. Produied by Nero Films, a French company and adapted from La Vie Parisienne, one of Offenbach's gayest and best operettas, "La Vie Parisienne" is a delightful cocktail of fun and enchanting music. The story opens in 1900 on the closing night of the Paris Exhibition. Don Ramiro, a handsome and extremely rich Brazilian, takes a tearful leave of Liane, the reigning beauty of the theatre, before returning to his wife and son in Brazil. How vows he will come back to Paris to resume this idyllic affair. He does, but not until 1935, bringing his lovely grand-daughter Helenita. Liane has slipped into the obscurity of retirement. Ramiro, determined to recapture the joys of his youth, enters into a hectic round of pleasure. Staying at the same hotel is Jacques de Lambrun, a young business man of romantic intentions. He enter Helenita's bedroom in error and from this unconventional meeting a warm friendship develops. Don Joao, Helenita's father arrives in Paris to take her and her grandfather home. Jacques and Helenita ask permission to marry but Don Joao sternly forbids any such project. Ramiro takes a hand, and with the help of his old friends, succeeds in making his son the laughing-stock of Paris. The young lovers are united and everyone is happy again. Rapid direction and effervescent acting keep the fun moving at an exhilarating rate. The music and dancing, including, of course, the famous "Can-Can" are quite out of the ordinary and prove a pleasing relief from the cacophony of jazz and rhythmic tappings. The acting honours are shared by Conchita Montenegro, Neil Hamilton, and Max Dearly, the well known French comedian. Excellent support is given by Carol Goodner, Eva Moore and Austin Trevor.

"MAJNU-1935"

Next Friday At The Globe

You must have read and seen the love-romance of "Laila-Majnun"—and must have felt the deep and touching experiences that they had to undergo because of love: but now there comes a poignant and rather a tragi-comedy of modern Romeo—a modern Majnu of 1935. It is Kamala Movietone's musical tragi-comedy, which has got a big cast—galaxy of stars—Miss Mukhtar Begum, Miss Shyama, Miss Amirjan and Mr. Harold Lewis. You won't miss this picture next Friday at the Globe.

"CAPTAIN OF THE GUARD"

At The Empire

From yesterday "The Empire" has been showing a picture of uncommon historic interest. Its theme is based on the "Marseilles." the French revolutionary national song. It has really been inspired by it. To the stirring atmosphere of this song is added a thrilling romance between the Hussar of the king and the daughter of a lowly French inn-keeper.

The crowds in this picture roused by music and national sentiment are a triumph of cine-drama. And the spectacle ends with the song "Death or Liberty."

The glittering splendour of the Court of Louis XVI contrasted with the hunger-driven mob is one of the unforgettable incidents of the film. John Boles and Laura La Plante act with characteristic magnetism this super picture.

It must not be missed.

"FOLLOW THE FLEET"

At The Regal

Men of war make love in "Follow the Fleet" the new Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers co-starring musical, in a gay tale of the navy on shore leave that high lights all the twists and techniques of courtship used by the "girl in every port" type of romancer. Astaire and Randolph Scott go to town in the fullest sense of the phrase when the dreadnoughts put into port. Of these two big romantic guns charged with song, dance and confidence, one aims at every feminine heart in San Francisco while the other concentrates on a dance hall entertainer whose flying feet are the only ones in the Bay City who can keep pace with his own. But they aren't the only ones in the film wise in the ways of romance. Ginger Rogers, as the nimble-footed songstress, and Astrid Allwyn, as a San Francisco society play girl with a leaning towards sailors know all there is to know about selling feminine charm and make the gobs look like school boys with the variety and effectiveness of their conquest, methods. There is only one who starts the film with a romantic handicap and that's Harriet Hilliard, lovely newcomer to the screen who plays Ginger's repressed school teacher sister. But the change wrought in her by Miss Rogers when she confesses a love for the "love 'em and leave 'em" Scott is a revelation for the audience as well as the big, good-looking gob. Nor does Miss Hilliard's inexperience hinder her too long, for when the clever Miss Allwyn steps in and lures Scott from her arms both Astaire and Miss Rogers pool their knowledge in novel schemes to cut the right corner off the romantic triangle.

"The Case Of The Lucky Legs" at the Royal Opera House this week with Warren William.

"THE CASE OF THE LUCKY LEGS"

At The Royal Opera House

The latest of Erle Stanley Gardner's best selling novels to be screened in Bombay, "The case of the Lucky Legs" starts to-day at Royal Opera House with Warren William again cast as the famous lawyer-detective, Perry Mason.

The picture is the most thrilling and exciting of all of Gardner's stories, and carries an unusual romance with sparkling dialogue and hilarious comedy situations, in addition to breath-taking sequences.

The murder is the outgrowth of a contest to find the girl with the most beautiful legs, a sequence which is a show of itself. Hollywood's prettiest girls having been selected as the contestants.

Several contest beauties, and also the lover of the prize winner, are suspected of having slain the crooked contest promoter. Of course the police are baffled until Perry Mason, solves the mystery.

Genevieve Tobin gives a clever performance as William's secretary-sweetheart, a girl who knows all the answers and masks her love for the boss by a fusillade of wise-cracks.

A more spontaneous romance, however, is carried on between Patricia Ellis, the "girl with perfect legs," and Lyle Talbot, the village doctor, with Porter Hall tangling up the course of true love as the third member of the romantic triangle.

The drama, filled with fast action and many thrills, and leavened by many comedy touches in which Allen Jenkins plays an important part as the blundering investigator and strong arm man for the lawyer-detective, is full of entertainment.

Others in the cast who do excellent work include Barton MacLane, Peggy Shannon, Anita Kerry, Craig Reynolds, Henry O'Neill, Charles Wilson, Joseph Crehan, Olin Howland, Mary Treen and Joseph Downing.

RE-INSTATEMENT OF ADVOCATE

The acting Chief Justice Mr. Rangnekar and Mr. Justice Tyabji at the High Court on Friday heard the application made by Dattatraya Narayan Deshpande praying for his re-instatement on the roll of Advocates (Appellate Side) of the Bombay High Court.

Mr. H. C. Koyaji with Mr. M. B. Dave instructed by W. B. Pradhan appeared for the petitioner.

Mr B. G. Rao, Assistant Government Pleader, opposed the petition.

On December 9, 1929, the High Court under its disciplinary jurisdiction had cancelled the petitioner's "sanad."

The petitioner how applied for his re-instatement. He stated that he had more than atoned for his previous conduct. He produced affidavits of people under whom he had worked to show that he bore an irreproachable character since his suspension.

Their lordships allowed the application.

POLICE COURT CASES IN BRIEF

BOMBAY, Friday.

Some of the bars and hotels in the Bellasis Road locality were searched for over an hour by the Vigilance Branch police yesterday in their hunt for two suspects in a social vice case.

The suspects, fearing arrest escaped by means of the back stairs of the building that was to be raided, and successfully eluded the police for over an hour.

They were ultimately arrested near the Empress Bar at Lamington Road.

The suspects are: Prakashnath Tarachand (25) and Jagannath Jaimatram.

The Vigilance Branch police allege that the two men brought a 22-year old Punjabi girl and were staying in the Grand Punjab Hotel at Shivlal Motilal Building at Bellasis Road. The two men, they stated, lived on the earnings of the girl.

A bogus customer was sent to the place with Rs. 20 in marked notes. These were, it was alleged, accepted by the suspects.

On a previously arranged signal, the police raided the place, but the suspect had managed to escape by a back staircase

Bail application was rejected by Mr. I. S. Haji at the Mazagon Court to-day when the suspects were placed before him.

A remand in police custody for eight days was granted.

A fifty-year old unidentified Hindu was knocked down by a motor-lorry in front of the Hind Mata Cinema on the Dadar Road on Wednesday last.

A constable put him in the lorry and removed to the K.E.M. Hospital, where he died.

No relatives have so far been traced.

The constable giving evidence stated that the deceased appeared to be a pilgrim.

The inquest was adjourned for investigations.

Mulji Bhai Umedbhai Patel was arrested last night by the Maharbouri Police, being suspected of a theft at Laxmi Nivas, 2nd Pinjrapole Lane.

It was alleged that certain inmates of a room went out, locking their room in the building. One of them who returned later found the room open and the trunks broken open.

It was alleged the accused, who is a neighbour, was present in the building at the time of the theft and so was arrested.

Accused was offered bail at the Girgaum police court till 24th instant.

Manilal Baijo, it is alleged, assaulted a person residing at the Municipal Chawls, Vadala, owing to ill-feeling.

In trying to ward-off a knife thrust from Manilal, the complainant is alleged to have received a cut on his hand.

Manilal was produced before the Presidency Magistrate, Dadar Court, and was remanded into Police custody for a week.

The Bholwada Police arrested yesterday Vasant Sadanand in the compound of the K.E.M. Hospital after a hot chase.

The accused was seen moving suspiciously in the compound and a watch was kept on him. It was alleged he grabbed a bicycle and began to paddle it away. He was chased and arrested.

The accused was released on a bail of Rs. 40 till the 17th instant at the Dadar Court to-day.

Suburbs God-speed Amraoti Olympians

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

VILE PARLE, Thursday.

"One thing that strikes me as I brood over the conditions and the tendencies of our progress is that we are not short of persons who can hold aloft the torch of India's honour, in any field. We have Mahatma Gandhi, we have Tagore and Bose, we have Dr. Roy and Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, and many others in fields of politics, literature, science etc. But they are all more or less known individually. Conditions here in India are still deplorable. Our percentage of education has not a bit progressed we are proceeding at Snail's speed. To me it appears, that what we require is complete change in our outlook. We should proceed from individuals to the society—from "Vyasti" to "Samashti" and thus think of the Society first," this was the observation made by Mr. B. G Kher, the prominent Congressman of the Suburban District, who presided over the happy function of wishing a 'bon voyage' to the Indian Olympic team for Berlin.

INDIA'S AMBASSADORS.

Mr. Kher, introducing the head of the team Dr. Shivaji Rao Patwardhan to a crowded audience said that unhappily. Dr. Patwardhan for want of a passport is not in a position to leave India. His forcible absence is one more reminder of our helplessness. But fortunately in Mr. Asnare, a leading legal light of Amraoti, they had the happy combination of one who is an athlete and who will also be a representative, of our culture in that foreign international congregation He explained that Olympic games are not new, but are a revival since 1896 of the old Gracian games at Olympia, where representatives of nations assembled and demonstrated their progress in various fields. India is sending her team to this assembly of athletes. People of other nations will march to the Olympic Stadium with their respective national flags. But where is India's flag? I leave the question there in consideration of all thinking Indians. He wished them all a good, happy, instructive and edifying journey and urged them to uphold the honour of mother India in that international assemblage.

MISSION OF THE TEAM.

He then invited Mr. Asnare to say a few words. Mr. Asnare said that the Hanuman Vyayam Shala, mainly from which institution they are all selected is an institution of 22 years standing. It began its career with a few members. To-day it claimed about a thousand on its rolls. It has four branches and its training schools are so popular a feature that not less then 15 to 20 thousand people must have benefited thereby till to date He said that Dr. Patwardhan's forcible stay is a reminder of India's political plight. He assured that he would do all in his power to uphold India's name in international esteem. He further said that they were going with high hopes and expected to have over and above this physical feats contact a cultural contact too, for "Vyayam" also was a symbol of a nation's progress. He hoped that when the demonstrations of Indian physical culturists proves the scientific superiority of the Indian method, the lovers of physical culture will come down to India to study Indian methods. Mr. G. D. Bhatt, President, Suburban (D.C.C.) thanked them all and wished them good luck and god speed and asked them to enrich India's national life by their exoerience in foreign lands. After garlanding the guests and light refreshments, the function terminated.

Magistrate Rejects Application Of Mill Workers

CALCUTTA, July 9.

The Police Magistrate of Alipore, rejected the petition, made on behalf of the defence in the case, wherein Mahabir Singh and 64 mill-workers stand charged with rioting and causing grievous hurt to Mr. Wilson, Manager of the Hooghly Jute Mill, praying for allowing the defence to give wide publicity to their version of the case, which they thought necessary, in view of the inaccurate statement, made about the case in the House of Commons by the Under-Secretary of State for India, in reply to questions put by certain members.—United Press.

Dutch Soldier Who Turned Pacifist Arrives In Vizagapatam

VIZAGAPATAM, July 8.

Captain Osterhouse, a Dutchman, who left the army because he abhorred the horrors of war, and thereafter became a Pacifist, migrated to America and started from Canada in 1921 on a "tour of goodwill", undertaken under the auspices of the Adventures' Club of Los Angeles, California, has arrived here.

He travelled from America to Africa. When he was in Spain he met a Bavarian lady, whom he married and who has been his constant companion ever since. The couple spent their honeymoon in the Sahara, and then travelling through Palestine, Syria and Egypt arrived in Bombay early last year. From Bombay they proceeded to Kashmir and Tibet. Then, from Darjeeling they toured Northern India and arrived at Vizagapatam on 30th June from Calcutta. Capt. Osterhouse intends proceeding from here to South India and returning to Germany after a period of four years, after visiting Ceylon, Burma, Indo-China, China and Japan.

His Mission

He said, that being a Pacifist and opposed to the principle of war, his mission was to create goodwill between the nations of the world. He said he had taken films of the real life of the people in the countries, which he had visited with the object of showing them to the people in other countries, and thus create international sympathy.

Capt. Osterhouse said that he was glad to find that in India many people wore home-spun clothes. In this respect, he was a disciple of Mahatma Gandhi, he said, as also in respect of his pacifist ideals. It was interesting to him to find that, in the Balkan countries people still wore home-spun clothes as they had done for centuries.

The tourists left Vizagapatam for Cocanada yesterday.—United Press.

DHOBIS' GRIEVANCES

Memorial To Standing Committee To Be Sent

The washermen of Dhobiwada held a mass meeting on Thursday evening and resolved to submit a Memorial to the Standing Committee. The Memorial has been signed by 2,000 Dhobies raises the question of gates, fines and rents.

Mr. Jhabwala, the Secretary of the Bombay Dhobies' Union has written a letter to the Municipal Commissioner requesting him to receive a delegation of the Dhobies to thrash the question with a view to amicable settlement.

NEW RATES INIQUITOUS

The new rates are to be levied on the Bhatties is to be enforced from the 1st of August and the Dhobies feel that quick action must be taken. The Municipal Commissioner maintains that the Municipality is incurring a loss on the Dhobiwada, but the Dhobies say that it cannot possibly be so.

They point out that by contract they are entitled to consume one lakh and 75 thousand gallons of water per day. Three metres have been installed at the Wada, two of 65 thousand gallons each and one of 45 thousand gallons. But the actual consumption is only about a lakh and 20 thousand gallons a day.

Not Enough

There are 609 Kundis with a capacity of 200 gallons each. The Kundis are filled only once a day and it is one of the complaints of the Dhobies that this is not enough.

The Dhobiwada has been in existence ever since 1876 A.D. and the Dhobis are asking how is it that it has begun to show losses now, though the rate has been gradually raised from Rs. 2 to Rs. 6 per month.

Profitable Divisions

Besides, a part of the Wada has been cut off and sold to the B. B. and C. I. Railway authorities necessitating the construction of a bridge connecting the two halves. Another slice from the Arthur Road side has been leased for farming and both these deals have brought in some money to the Municipality.

Monstrous Fines

The rents for the stones are recovered in advance. They must be paid within the 4th of every month and, in case of failure, a fine of one rupee per day is levied, one rupee per day as fine on a tax of six rupees, is characterised as monstrous, by the Dhobis. Nor is this all. If the rate, plus the fine, are not paid up within the 8th, the licence is cancelled. This is particularly cruel and works a great hardship on the poor Bhayyas, declare the Dhobies.

If the poor Dhobi goes to his native place and cannot return within the 8th, he forfeits his licence for ever, though he s prepared to pay the fee even for the period during which he was not using the stone. The poor man comes back and finds himself stranded without any work. They claim that their licence must be kept alive for a reasonable time and not forfeited so easily.

No Proper System

There is no proper system of issuing licences. They are issued annually. Long usage gives a man no right whatsoever. A newcomer can easily oust him. It is here, the Dhobies allege, that corruption creeps in.

Plan For Future

The Memorialists have asked for a reply before Wednesday next, on which day they are holding a meeting to consider their future course of action.

The Managing Committee of the Dhobies Union is meeting at 5 o'clock at Dhuswadi, Dhobi Talao to devise ways and means to combat the new rate that is to be levied on the Dhobies from the 1st of August.

MOVE TO ENROL ALL ELIGIBLE PARSIS

Voters' Enrolment Committee's Decision

At a meeting of the Executive of Parsi Voters Enrolment Committee it was resolved to continue its efforts to enrol all eligible Parsis whose names may have been left out of the Preliminary Roll which will be published on 11th August.

A rough estimate alone is possible of the numbers qualified to vote. It is believed that there are about 18,000 Parsi literate women whose names should have appeared on the Roll. The Committee can definitely state that about 14,000 women voters have been enrolled during the last three weeks. If the Committee's estimate of total number of eligible Parsi women voters be correct, there still remain about 3,000 of them to be enrolled.

The Committee believe that a very large number of Parsi Matriculates has been left out and feel that every endeavour should be made to get these enrolled at the next opportunity, namely before the Revising Authorities.

The Committee were of opinion that the Electoral authorities were in the best position to obtain the names of all income-tax payers and they therefore relied upon these authorities getting this class of voters enrolled. If it eventually turns out on an examination of the Preliminary Roll that large numbers of this class have been omitted, the Committee are of opinion that strenuous efforts will still have to be made to have them enfranchised.

It is hoped the public and specially the subscribers to the fund will be satisfied with the work done within the last three weeks, namely an enrolment of 18,000 new names.

APPEAL FOR FURTHER SUBSCRIPTIONS

Further efforts which are absolutely necessary will mean more expenditure. The Committee therefore take this opportunity of once again earnestly appealing to the Parsi community for further subscriptions, as those already received are proved to be insufficient to pay for the expenses already incurred.

A Mysterious Death

LAHORE (By Mail.)

"Suicide or murder," this is the problem which the Lahore police have to solve following the death of a Hindu youth in the small hours of this morning at the Mayo Hospital.

The deceased, who had come to Lahore from Sialkot was apparently in good health, and had food at a local hotel where he slept for the night in the open air. A sharp shower at 3 a.m. this morning was found not to have roused him, and on trying to shake him up it was found he was unconscious. The police, who were informed, removed the man to hospital, where he subsequently died.

OPIUM POISONING CASE?

A similar case is reported from Tibbi Ilaqa, where a Muslim water carrier found unconscious last evening died subsequently. Opium is suspected in both cases.—A. P.

FACILITIES FOR VISITORS TO FRANCE

Bombay, Thursday.

The Consulate de France, Bombay, has issued the following:—

In order to encourage foreign tourists to visit France, the French Government, on the proposal of the Tourist Commissioner, has just instituted a special "tourist card"; and revised the rules governing tourists as follows:

Any foreign tourist intending to travel in France and Algeria for less than two months may do so without any formality whatsoever, and without paying any fee, provided he has a passport or any official document establishing his identity.

TOURIST CARD.

If the tourist intends to remain in France more than two months but less than six months, all he has to do is to obtain the newly created "tourist card," for which there is no fee. This card may be obtained before starting from his own country by application to the nearest French Consulate, or before the lapse of two months in France from the Prefect of the Department where the tourist happens to be staying.

If the tourist wishes to remain in France more than six months, he is required before the lapse of this period to apply for the ordinary "identity card," for which the fee is now 160 francs, and which is valid for three years from date of issue.

A MUSLIM RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

On December 7 1924 was started at Oomerabad, Ambur, a small educational institution by the late Kaka Hajee Mohamed Omer Sahib, of Roshan and Co., Madras. He was helped by Mr. Jalal Hajee Abdul Karim Sahib of the same firm and Mr. C. Abdul Hakim Sahib. English up to the Matriculation standard is being taught along with Muslim Theology and Arabic. Some of the students have appeared for and passed the Matriculation Examination of the Madras University and joined the Government Muhammadan College. Till now 40 students came out of this institution. 37 out of these were sent up for the Afzul-ul-ulema and Munshi Fazil examination of the Madras University and have come out successful.

Some students have been sent to the Darul-Mussanifin at Azamgarh and the Darul-Munazirin of Sialkot.

There are at present 140 students on the rolls of the institution. Under the auspices of this institution at Ambur two more schools have been opened in 1931 one a girls' school and the other a boys' school. The latter is open to boys of all castes and creeds. Books are supplied free and no fees for tuition are charged. Mr. C. Abdul Hakim Sahib performed the opening ceremony of the new buildings of the Mahammadia School on June 21 last.

Why C. S. Naidu Was Not Given Bowling At Lord's

Pavilion Comments On Maharaj Kumar's "Forgetfulness"

INDIANS' POOR SHOW IN FIRST TEST

(From Our Own Correspondent).

LONDON. (By Air Mail).

When we reached the Lord's ground on Saturday to witness the first Test Match between England and India, we did not take our seats in the hope that India would win it.

Firstly, our Captain had managed to lose the spin of the coin. That helped the England captain to take advantage of the rainsoaked wicket, and we were pretty certain that Hedley Verity will repeat the performance that he made on the same ground when Australia entered the arena for Test honours two years ago. Secondly we could not fail to realise that the Indian side was without Jai, Amarnath and Bannerjee, the three players who could not be replaced so easily.

MERCHANT AND HINDLEKER'S FIRM STANDING.

However, to the surprise of many of us, the first Indian pair, Merchant and Hindleker, played such a confident game that in spite of Allen's determined effort to separate them by various changes in his bowling orders, we felt that the pair would continue to play till the end of the day. Allen put vehemence in his bowling and accompanied by earnestness of every man on the field he was finally rewarded by a wicket which he captured by sending a powerful toss to Merchant uprooting his middle stump. Merchant kept on watching the wicket for a while. Efforts of Allen, Verity, Wyatt, Robins and Langridge to subdue the Indian wicket-keeper did not succeed, who continued to bat merrily and confidently when his other partners one by one succumbed. Naidu seems not to have understood what is 'l.b.w.' under the new rule, for once again he went back to the pavilion under the new rule. Amar Singh thought that he was facing some school boy bowling, which he could whack without much effort. And he departed soon, after having three boundary strokes. One would, however, excuse Wazir Ali, who seems to be under pain after every stroke that he makes. Jehangir Khan played confidently, as did the Maharaj Kumar, who did his best to raise the score to a respectable figure. The lead that Merchant and Hindleker gave to their side was lost very soon and one missed Amarnath, who plays a cautious game.

AMARSINGH'S SPLENDID BOWLING.

When India finished for 147 runs, we came to the conclusion that England will at the end of their tenth wicket find herself in a commanding position not to need to have a second knock on the third day. However, Amarsingh practically put to bed the England's batsmen. He became so dangerous that a stage was reached then we felt that England would finish the first innings on the same evening. Though, the Indian captain was left very little to decide as to the changes in his bowling, owing to the menacing bowling of Amarsingh, he still could have been a little more earnest to separate the partnership that had contributed nearly fifty runs to the English batting. He ought to have adopted the method of the England captain to separate this pair. Instead, he kept on the same bowlers for a long time. He ought to have brought in Major Naidu earlier than he did. Langridge would have certainly not settled down as he did. However, thanks to the untiring efforts of the two Indian fast bowlers, England to the amazement of everyone finished thirteen runs behind. We all thought that was an unlucky number for England and that Allen would ge it in the neck for asking India to have the first knock.

However, in the second knock of India, which commenced on Monday late in the afternoon, the Indian batsmen failed utterly. The Indian captain sacrificed Merchant by sending him first. Judging by the position of the game. Merchant should not have been asked to open the Indian batting. As soon as Merchant went away to a doubtful catch behind the wicket, other Indian batsmen followed the procession. Hindleker again held the fort for over an hour as he did on the previous occasion. But it must be confessed that the day's (Monday's) game reminded us of village cricket, as the wicket and the outfield were not in ideal condition. The umpires had used artificial means and the large crowd that had gathered to watch the exciting part of the match did not get the entertainment worth the money, they had spent. Incidentally, Jehangir Khan seems to be haunted by the unlucky number figure of runs. The advantage which India had gained was soon lost due to the failure of the Indian captain to use his bowlers properly.

In the England second knock, the Indian captain was really disappointing. He used to fumble before making up his mind as to who should bowl on a wicket on which Gimblett and Turnbull had got set. In a confused mind, the Maharaj Kumar forgot that C. S. Naidu was on the field, and there was a comment in the pavilion as to why a bowler, who was specially flown to London for a wicket that was suitable to him was not tried even once. The other cause that contributed to the loss of the match was the poor fielding of the majority of Indian eleven, in which the Maharaj Kumar, Amarsingh, Nissar and Palia became very conspicuous.

India will not get another chance to win a test in the present series, as neither Old Trafford nor Oval affords a wicket that will suit Nissar and Amarsingh.

as when he reached thirteen runs, he fell a victim to a catch behind the wicket as in the previous innings when he scored thirteen runs. Major Naidu gave further evidence of having lacked form and it is possible that the Indian selectors would think before selecting him for the Manchester Test on July 25.

India finished the second knock on Tuesday (yesterday) leaving England almost 170 minutes to score the needed 107 runs to win the match.

BATSMEN RISE TO OCCASION.

It was by no means an easy task for England considering the condition of the wicket. Yet, the England batsmen rose to the occasion, as they always do, unlike Indians, to pull the game out of fire and before it was 6.30 in the evening Gimblett with the help of Turnbull whipped the Indian bowlers to reach the necessary

NOTTS CAPTAIN CAUSES OFFENCE

Sussex Protest Against Unsporting Conduct

LONDON, July 9.

Considering the action of Heane, the Notts Captain, in leading his team off the field on June 30 owing to slight rain, when Sussex needed two runs to win, as a flagrant offence against the spirit of cricket, Sussex addressed a letter to Notts threatening to cancel future fixtures, unless it publicly disapproved Heane's action

Notts replied they did not uphold it, and deeply regretted that the good feelings which had hitherto prevailed between the counties should be marred.

However, Notts Committee unanimously passed a vote of confidence in Heane as Captain.—Reuter.

CLOSING SCORES.

The following were the closing scores in the first class cricket matches which began on Wednesday:

CONGRESS ELECTION DRIVE IN C. P.

NAGPUR, July 9.

The Congress Election Campaign commences vigorously with the formation of the Provincial Parliamentary Board to be constituted shortly at the meeting of the Nagpur Provincial Congress Committee on July 12. It is understood that a joint meeting of the three boards, namely, Berar, Nagpur, and C. P. Hindi (Mahakosal) will be convened at Nagpur probably on July 19, when a Parliamentary Committee for the entire province will be constituted and it is expected this Committee will be entrusted with the election campaign and the selection of candidates on behalf of the Congress.

HARIJANS GET BUSY.

Considerable activity is noticeable among the "Depressed Classes" in connection with the forthcoming primary elections. Mr. H. G. Khandekar has convened a meeting of the "Depressed Class" leaders from various parts of the province when a proposal to constitute a Parliamentary Board which will select Harijan candidates will be discussed.—A. Vice-President Of Jain Conference Resigns

AHMEDABAD, July 8.

The publication in to-day's local dailies of the resignation of Mr. Sarabhai Dalal, vice-President of the Reception Committee from the Second Jain Youths' Conference recently held there, has created sensation among the Conference workers. He has resigned jointly from its working committee, local committee and the Jain Yuvak Sangh. The reasons for his resignation are not, however known, but it is understood that it is for protesting against President Parmanand's "irreligious speech."

This is the seventh resignation and it is expected that more resignations will follow.—United Press

Teachers' Assn. Draw Mayor's Attention To Irregular Procedure

The Secretary of the Primary Teachers' Association Bombay, has addressed an appeal to the Mayor against the appointments of Junior Teachers as Supervisors by the Schools Committee.

The letter says:

"On behalf of the Primary Teachers' Association Bombay, I have the honour to submit to the Corporation the following representation for sympathetic and favourable consideration.

"There is the resolution of the Schools Committee that the posts of Educational Supervisors should be given to the senior, competent, trained teachers in the department.

"Recently in May of this year, a post fell vacant on account of a supervisor having retired. The Schools Committee in their meeting of 10-6-1936 filled up this vacancy by appointing Mr. P. B. Sarmalkar a Junior, No. 26 in order of seniority according to the Service Directory, and at the same meeting they abruptly appointed another supervisor Mr. Y. R. Inamdar also a Junior, No. 49 in the Directory and have thus incurred unnecessary expenditure.

"None of the above two juniors possesses any higher qualifications which would justify his selection to the post, to the exclusion of the rest, whose claims have been overlooked.

"These appointments have been made with utter disregard to the claims of the seniors every one of whom is quite competent for these posts.

Point Of Seniority

"The Schools Committee have not followed their usual procedure in any respect while making these appointments. They did not give any consideration to the point of seniority, the importance of which universally acknowledged in all departments, when making higher appointments, nor did they interview the seniors as has been done in every case prior to the one in question, to test their competency. This Association emphatically says that seniority brings with it competency unless otherwise expressly declared.

Wonder of wonders is this, that the Committee gave absolutely no consideration to the recommendation of their Secretary who is the Head of the Executive and who knows best the efficiency or otherwise of work and the claims of teachers working under his direct supervision.

"From the facts stated above, it can fairly be presumed that the procedure followed by the Committee in this particular case, is extra-ordinary and therefore, needs scrutiny at the hands of the Corporation.

"I may further add that there is a general dissatisfaction among the teachers on account of the injustice done in making these appointments.

This Association, therefore appeals and prays to the Corporation that they should look into the matter and do justice to the Department."

The subject, it is understood, will come up for discussion in the Corporation on Monday next, July 13.

Hansraj Pragji College

(From Our Correspondent)
NASIK, July 8.

The Hansraj Pragji Thackersey College to which I paid a visit on Sunday morning is progressing well and this year, the College was fortunate in securing the services of Prof. N. S. Thakkhav, as head of the English Department of the College.

Owing to the generosity of a Bombay merchant, the college authorities were able to construct a Pavilion and a Library Building which was a great need of the students. One more building which will serve as a residence for the Rector is under construction. On the whole, the development of the College which has now a little more than 300 students on its roll is progressing on a satisfactory basis under the guidance of Mr. T. A. Kulkarni, the genial Principal of the College.

Scouting Competition

At the Annual General Meeting of the Village Improvement Association held under the chairmanship of Mr. E. W. Nabar, a teacher in the local Government High School who has been a Scout Master for the last 14 years was awarded an efficiency Medal.

His troop which consists of 50 strong had proved very useful during a recent fire in the town and also considerably helped the Sanitary Committee of the Municipality in the improvement of the health of the town. Helping poor students with books and other accessories was also another item which they successfully carried out. Mr. Nabar deserves to be congratulated on the well-merited distinction which he has secured at the Scout Competition.

Chambhar Community Presents Purse To Master Nardekar

(From A Correspondent.)
BOMBAY, Friday.

A largely attended meeting was held at the Raguwir Theatre, De-Lisle Road, on Wednesday to present a purse to Master Nardekar who is proceeding to Berlin to participate in Olympic Games. Many prominent members of the Chambhar community were present, including Messrs P. Baloo, N. S. Kajrolker, Sangaoker, Sakharamboowa, Ziradker, etc. Mr. Anant Hari Gadre was also present.

Mr. Kajrolker proposed Prof. V. G. Rao, Bar.-at-Law to the Chair and was seconded by Mr. Sangaoker.

Purse Presented

A purse of Rs. 800 was then presented to Master Nardekar who thanked Mr. Kajrolker, the President of the Rohidas Balmitra Mela and other contributors. Two societies garlanded Mr. Nardekar.

Mr. Kajrolker in proposing a vote of thanks to the Chair, said that he did not wish to be called a leader and that whatever little he did for the Samaj was in the capacity of a soldier and not for earning a name or position. The meeting terminated at about 11-15 p.m.

Master Nardekar sailed by s.s. "Conte Verde" yesterday.

YOGA AS WORLD CULTURE

POONA, (By Mail.)

Since Yoga had universal appeal irrespective of caste, creed, sex and nationality, it had every chance of being the future culture of the world, was the statement made by Shri Yogendra of the Yoga Institute of Bombay speaking on Yoga at the meeting held to celebrate the foundation Day of the Bhandarkar Oriental Research Institute, Poona. He added that the generations to come will imbibe the spirit of Yoga. Super humanity was the aim of the civilisations and cultures and Yoga will demonstrate the possibility and means of achieving it.

Speaking on Yoga for the householder, Shri Yogendra said that it was a misconception of the brute tents to say Yoga was unsuited to the householder. On the other hand it had a special appeal and the householder stood in great need of its practice to sustain him under pressure of various complexes.—A. P.

MALARIA PREVALENT IN BURMA

Govt. Decides To Spend 1 Lakh And Odd To Check It

RANGOON (By Mail.)

A notification issued by the Ministry of Education and published in Burma Gazette announces the free issue of quinine in malarious districts and its decision on the anti-malarial measures to be adopted by the Government. The notification says the prevalence of malaria in Burma especially in rural areas has been the subject of much anxious comment in successive annual reports on the public health of the province. The reports of malaria surveys the various spleen census and the investigation of periodical epidemics, all confirm the view that the task of combating the disease is a formidable one. In rural areas the amount of ground to be covered renders anti-mosquito measures impracticable save at a prohibitive cost and the problem can best be attacked by the wide and systematic distribution of quinine which has been proved over and over again to mitigate the severity of the disease and in some cases to prevent it altogether.

ANTI-MALARIAL MEASURES.

The Government has accordingly decided to spend Rs. 1,15,000 on anti-malarial measures out of the grant of 5 lakhs received from the Government of India and to devote the greater part of this sum to the purchase of quinine. The Government of India have also made a grant to the province of 5,000 lbs. of quinine sulphate from its surplus stock of that drug and this will be available for distribution.—United Press.

New Kind of Cold Remedy Is a Blessing to Mothers

There is Nothing to Swallow—Nothing to Upset a Child's Stomach. You Simply Rub This Vaporising Ointment on the Throat and Chest at Bedtime

Acts Through the Skin and Also Releases Medicated Vapours That Are Inhaled

ENDS MOST COLDS OVERNIGHT

Few of Mother's worries are more troublesome than the colds which children catch so frequently. You know that these colds must never be neglected, because they often lead to bronchitis, influenza, or pneumonia—or even permanent afflictions like deafness, sinus trouble, or chronic catarrh. Yet you hate to keep dosing a child's stomach with pills and cough mixtures—and your instinct is right.

"Dosing" is Often Dangerous

Colds lodge in the nose, throat, or lungs, and taking medicine into the stomach is a slow and roundabout way to reach them. Besides, constant "dosing," risky even for grown-ups, is especially harmful for children, because it often upsets the digestion. And this, of course, weakens the child's resistance just when he needs it most to fight the cold.

A New, Safe Remedy

Fortunately, you no longer need to make children swallow medicine for colds. For a new kind of cold remedy has come to this country. It is not only more effective, but it is also absolutely safe. This new remedy is Vicks VapoRub, the world-famous ointment which you rub on the throat and chest at bedtime.

Quick Relief in 2 Ways

When you use internal medicine for a cold, you have to wait and worry, hoping that something is going to happen hours later. When you rub a child with VapoRub, something happens right away and he can feel it!

He feels a comforting "glow" on his skin as this powerful ointment begins to "draw out" the pain and tightness in his chest. At the same time, warmed by the natural heat of the body, VapoRub releases medicated vapours which the child breathes in all the way to his lungs. They clear the stuffed-up air-passages and let him breathe freely again.

In just a minute, he feels better and soon drops off to restful sleep. Meanwhile, VapoRub goes on working for hours. By morning, the worst of the cold is over.

For Adults' Colds, Too

VapoRub's powerful two-way action, is equally effective for adults' colds. This ointment has become famous in 70 countries because it brings quick relief, not only for simple colds, but also for coughs, sore throat, chest colds, bronchitis, and other cold troubles.

FOR A FREE SAMPLE—Send this ad, your name and address, and ½ anna for postage to Muller & Phipps (Asia) Ltd., P.O. Box 775, Bombay. Or you can get VapoRub at all good chemists and bazaars. (104)

QUESTION OF RETRENCHMENT

Rly. Dispute Referred To Govt.

SIMLA, July 10.

The railwaymen's convention fixed for July 14 at Bombay has been postponed sine die. Mr. Giri and other representatives of railwaymens federation who are now here in connection with the discussions with the railway board are therefore not proceeding to Bombay.

It is understood the general council of the All-India railwaymen's federation discussed to-day the proposal to make an application to the Government of India for reference under trade disputes Act. The dispute present between them and the railway board on the question of retrenchment on railways to either a court of enquiry or conciliation board. Whether the council of federation would press his view or not depends on the result of to-day's conversations with the railway board on the question of retrenchment.—A. P.

RETRENCHMENT IN RAILWAYS

SIMLA, July 9

The half-yearly meeting between the Railway Board and the All-India Railwaymen's Federation commenced this afternoon when the question of retrenchment on railways was discussed at length.

It is understood that Sir Guthrie Russell, Chief Commissioner of Railways, who was assisted by Mr. P. R. Rau, Financial Commissioner, and Mr. Highet, Member, explained the revenue position of railways and pointed out the necessity of retrenchment.

On the other hand Mr. Jamnadas Mehta who was assisted by Mr. V. V. Giri and about fifteen other members of the Federation, suggested certain alternatives by which the situation could be met at least partially.

The meeting will be resumed tomorrow when the subject will be further reviewed.—A.P.

HINDU RELIGION IN DANGER!

Orthodoxy Voices Opposition To Social Reform Bills

A well attended public meeting of the Gurjar Chorasi Brahmin community of Bombay which consists of about 84 sections of Brahmins of Gujarat amounting to about 35,000 persons, was held at Ganesh Vadi on Sunday last, under the presidentship of His Holiness Jagadguru Shri Rajaraje Svarasram Shankaracharya Maharaj of Dwarka to protest against the following Bills: Dr. Bhagwandas' Inter-caste marriage bill, Dr. Deshmukh's Hindu women's Inheritance Bill, Sarda Act Amendment Bill, and M. C. Raja's Civil Disabilities Removal Bill, introduced in the Legislative Assembly.

Various speakers addressed the meeting at length criticizing the bills from various standpoints and pointing out the grave danger to the Hindu religion and society if the said bills are passed into law and exhorting Hindus to oppose them tooth and nail.

Injustice To Sanatanists

The meeting then passed the following resolutions condemning the Bills:

(1) This meeting of the Brahmins enters its emphatic protest against the Bill introduced in the Legislative Assembly by B. Das amending the Sarda Act so as to make it more strict because it believes that by the passing of the proposed Bill great injustice will be done to the Sanatani Hindus and they will have to live on the mercy of local officials.

(2) This meeting of the Brahmins enters its emphatic protest against the repeal of Secs. 18 and 12 of the East India Company's Acts of 1780 and 1797 giving protection to the fathers and masters of Hindu families in matters affecting their domestic relations by the insertion of Sec. 301 in the new Government of India Act of 1935 at a late stage without taking opinion of the Hindu community affected thereby and it prays that His Majesty's Government be pleased to restore the repealed Sections of the said Acts.

Inter-Caste Marriage

(3) This meeting enters its emphatic protest against the inter-caste marriage validating Bill introduced in the Legislative Assembly by Dr. Bhagwandas as it is honestly of the opinion that the said Bill is calculated to uproot and destroy the very caste system, the religious rights and customs of Hindu marriage and Aryan culture and civilisation and to lead the rising generation to the path of unbridled license.

(4) This meeting declares its emphatic protest against clauses 4 and 5 of the Hindu Women's Inheritance Bill introduced in the Legislative Assembly by Dr. Deshmukh as it believes that the said Bill is subversive of the joint family system of the Hindus and the basis social and religious principles of the Hindu Law of Succession.

Removal Of Disabilities

(5) This meeting declares its strong opposition against the Civil Disabilities Removal Bill introduced in the Legislative Assembly by R. B. M. C. Raja, because in its opinion the inner object of the Bill is to create mutual dissention and clashes between the High Caste Hindus and the Untouchables and to deprive the Caste Hindus of the rights and privileges enjoyed by them by destroying the religious and social institutions of the Aryans.

PACIFIC SEMINAR CONFERENCE

Hawaii 'Varsity Holds Summer Session

Hawaii 'Varsity publicity Officer writes:—

Great Britain will be one of twenty Pacific areas represented at the Seminar-Conference on Education in Pacific Countries, to be held in Honolulu from June 30 to August 7.

The Seminar-Conference is sponsored by the University of Hawaii and Yale University, and will be held in conjunction with the University of Hawaii summer session.

Great Britain's representatives are: Arthur I. Mayhew, secretary of education committee, Colonial Office, London; W. Kay headmaster, King's college, Hongkong; A. Keir, inspector of schools, British Malaya; H. E. Maude, administrator, Gilbert and Ellice Island colony; P. Konanda, secretary, Servants of India society, Poona, India, James Russell, director of education Fiji.

Other countries and dependencies to be represented are: Australia, New Guinea, Papua, China, French Indo-China, England, Japan, Latin America, the Netherlands East Indies, New Zealand, South Africa, the United States, American Samoa, the Philippines, and Hawaii.

The Seminar-Conference will bring together leaders in education in these areas for discussions and study of common problems.

ITEMS ON AGENDA

Among the subjects to be discussed are: the comparative development of educational policies in the different Pacific countries; the problems of racial and cultural contact that affect education; the educational possibilities of human material in the Pacific; including so-called primitive peoples; assimilation versus indigenous development of minority groups; local economic forces, vocational education; language problems; higher education and the "white collar" tradition; possibilities for international collaboration in education matters; the contribution the social sciences can make to the educator and administrator.

University presidents, administrators of some of the large educational funds in the United States, anthropologists and educators, and a number of prominent research scholars will be among the 50 official delegates.

Dr. Felix M. Keesing, associate professor of anthropology in the University of Hawaii and author of a number of books on Pacific areas, and Dr. Charles T. Loram, Sterling professor of education in Yale University, are directors of the conference.

DISTRICT ECONOMIC COUNCILS

Madras Government Not To Finance Them

OOTACAMUND, July 9.

The Government have issued orders directing the formation of District Economic Councils for rural reconstruction with District Collectors as ex-officio Chairmen, and all District Officers as members, of whom two non-officials will be nominated by the Government. The Councils' function will be advisory, but they will be at liberty to make recommendations to the Provincial Economic Council. The Government propose not to finance these councils and expect that funds will be raised locally, as they believe self-help is the best help.—A.P.

MADRAS ELECTORAL ROLLS

OOTACAMUND, July 9.

The figures received by the Government relating to preliminary rolls for the General, the Mahomedan and the Indian Christian Constituencies of the new Assembly show that the parliamentary figures have not been fully realised and that the difference would be in the neighbourhood of ten per cent. The ratio of men to women, except in the Nilgiris, where it is 8 to 1, varies between 2 and 4. The average of men to women in rolls for the constituencies in question is 3 to 1. The figures for the scheduled castes are generally satisfactory.—A.P.

MINOR INDUSTRIES GET SUPPORT

SIMLA, July 9.

The non-official delegation of Commerce and Industries in India under the chairmanship of Mr. Kasturbhai Lalbhai has concluded drafting memorandum for submission to the Government.

It is understood that complete unanimity was reached on all points and the interests of minor industries received support on all hands.—A. P.

Jap Expedition To Assault Mt. Nandkote

CALCUTTA, July 9.

From a cable received from Tokio it is learnt that the final selection of the personnel of the Japanese expedition to assault Mount Nandkote, has been made.

Mr. Y. Hotta, a graduate of the Rikkyo University has been selected as leader of the expedition and the strength of the party has been reduced from 8 to 4. Besides the leader the three others are Mr. K. Yamagata, Mr. I. Yuasa and Mr. M. Hamano.

The services of a Japanese gentleman named Mr. Hirose residing in Bombay for the last 20 years have been requisitioned to act as an interpreter.—United Press.

Poland Wants Colonies

PARIS, (By Air Mail).

That colonies are the only means to solve the grave problems created by Poland's high birth rate and increasing population, is the statement alleged to have been made by the Polish ambassador, Chlapowski in Paris who is further understood to have expressed hopes that France would do her best to support Poland's legitimate claims for new territorial outlets.

The well-informed circles believe that this statement is a natural corollary to the active colonial propaganda that is now being carried on in Poland by the "Sea and Colony League" which enjoys the support of the government.

Poland, it is asserted, is watching for the moment when she can officially put forward her claims in respect of African territories for her surplus population.

MUNICIPALITY v. CONGRESS COMMITTEE

Sultanpur Dispute Likely To Be Settled

(From A Correspondent.)

BENARES, July 7.
(By Mail).

Sri Prakasa who, under instructions from the President of the Provincial Congress Committee, had just visited Sultanpur in connection with the dispute between the Congress Committee and the Municipal Board regarding the holding of public meetings there, interviewed on his return said:—

The Provincial Political Conference at Unao was greatly exercised over the complaint made to it by Sultanpur Congress workers, that, though they had always held their meetings on the Victoria Manzil grounds which is a piece of open Municipal land, without any let or hindrance, the Chairman of the Municipal Board had recently prohibited the holding of any meetings without his express permission. The Sultanpur workers also complained that a national flag that had been flying there for a long time past had recently been removed. It was decided at Sultanpur that Messrs. Purushottam Das Tandan, Mohanlal Suksena, Jawaharlal Nehru and myself should, one after the other, visit Sultanpur in this connection. I went on July 3 as arranged, and saw the Congress workers and the Chairman of the Municipal Board, Mr. Ambay Sahay.

NATIONAL FLAG REMOVED.

The facts are that the Victoria Manzil grounds are 'nazul' land under the control of the Municipal Board. On these grounds stand the Municipal Office buildings where the honorary magistrates' courts are also held. These buildings appear to have been constructed from public subscriptions raised at the time of Queen Victoria's Jubilee. They were later transferred to the Municipal Board. The large piece of open ground had always been utilized for public meetings, and there had been no necessity for taking previous permission for holding such meetings. For over a year, a National flag had always been flying there. The new Chairman, on coming into office in January last, ordered that his previous permission was necessary before any meeting could be held. The Municipal authorities also removed the National flag one night. When the Congress people held a meeting there to condole the death of Mrs. Kamala Nehru, the leaders were run in for trespass. They were convicted and sentenced to imprisonment. Some are appealing in Higher Courts to test the validity of the sentence and are let out on bail; some others are in jail, while, I believe, one or two cases are still pending.

There is no doubt that the action of the Chairman has been deeply resented by the general public who have shown their displeasure in various ways.

Negotiations are proceeding and I am expecting to hear soon both from the Congress Committee and the Municipal Chairman, and I may be in a position to make a further statement before very long.

China's Gift To Sarnath Library

CALCUTTA, July 9.

Some valuable treasure in the form of ancient books which will form the nucleus of Chinese Library to be established at Sarnath near Benares where pilgrims from all over the Buddhist world annually gather to pay homage to the memory of Lord Buddha, has been received by the Mahabodhi Society and the International Buddhist University Association, Sarnath, through the well-known Chinese scholar and Prof. Tanyunshan, from Chu Tzuchais, President of the Relief Committee of National Government of China and Yue Yufu, formerly Minister of Finance, China.

Nearly six hundred volumes comprising of Chinese-Tripitaks of Sung Dynasty have been presented. They contain numerous pictures illustrating the life of Lord Buddha and episodes of the Buddhist history.—United Press.

TARIFF BOARD ABOLITION CONDEMNED

The Mahakoshal Chamber of Commerce passed the following resolutions at their meeting held on 28th June, 1936.

1. This Chamber disapproves the steps taken by the Government of India in abolishing the Tariff Board when there are so many struggling industries in India requiring the need of protection for the growth and to meet the foreign competition.

2. This Chamber strongly protests the action of the Tariff Board in reducing the duties on grey plain and bordered C. P. goods instead of increasing the same are even maintaining at the present level to the detriment of Indian Textile Mill industries. It also condemns the action of the Government of India in giving effect to this decision by executive order in a great haste without waiting for the considered view of the Legislative Assembly.

The Chamber is also enlisting members in city and Sudar Bazar and there is a good response from the mercantile community.

EDUCATED JOBLESS IN SIND

New Govt. To Tackle Problem

(From Our Correspondent).
KARACHI, July 9.

The problems of relieving "educated unemployment" in the province and raising of educational standards are receiving active attention of the new Government. In this connection it is understood that the Central Government's resolution on Sapru Committee's proposals has been received here for opinion and suggestions. However no separate Director of Public Instruction, who could be charged with the work of framing suitable proposals has yet been appointed for the province. It is believed the appointment of District Committees is contemplated, who would "inter alia" advice the educational authorities, as also a panel of educationists with representatives of Agriculture, Health and Veterinary Departments thereon who will deal with the question.

NEW SCHEME OF NAWANAGAR STATE

Question Of Rail-Road Competition Solved

(From A Correspondent)
JAMNAGAR, July 8.

For some time past the question of competition of the bus service with the railway and between the bus-keepers themselves to a cut-throat point was under active consideration of those responsible for the transport policy of the Nawanagar State. The matter has after a good deal of persuasion, negotiation and sustained efforts of all concerned been settled satisfactorily, thanks to the indefatigable efforts of Col. R. K. Himatsinghji, Military Secretary and Home Member of His Highness the Maharaja Jam Saheb Bahadur, as he has played an important part in forging the issue to a point which has been acceptable to all the parties.

BUS OWNERS' ASSOCIATION

A scheme has been evolved by which all the bus owners will form themselves into an association and will work under the control and guidance of the Jamnagar and Dwarka Railway.

Portions of the State where buses were working have been allotted to various bus-keepers who are to develop traffic in that area but are not to interfere in other man's charge. They will provide their own buses which should be strong and durable with drivers, cleaners, etc., and will be responsible for their safe running. The fares will be fixed by the railway which will also draw up scheduled timings by which the service should run in each area. The railway will be responsible for the issue, check and collection of tickets through its own staff, keeping of accounts and remittance of money to the Audit Office which will keep systematic accounts. The buses will be insured by the railway which will obtain 3rd party insurance so as to ensure the serviceable buses only being admitted to the pool.

FIXED PERCENTAGE FOR RAILWAY.

In return for this, the railway will retain a fixed percentage of the gross earnings and remit the balance to the proprietors month by month. The maximum bus fare has been fixed at Re. 0-0-6 per mile which may be reduced in special cases for long distance traffic where buses will act as feeders to the railway in obtaining additional traffic. The scheme as approved by all concerned was placed before His Highness the Maharaja Jam Saheb Bahadur who was pleased to meet all the bus-keepers concerned in the scheme, Col. R. K. Himatsinghjibhai and the Railway Manager and to listen to all who had to say anything in the matter. After a patient hearing for about 2 hours, His Highness was pleased to sanction the scheme which will be brought into force with effect from the 15th of July 1936. There will be a Board of Arbitration to settle all points of dispute consisting of Col. R. K. Himatsinghjibhai and Rai Saheb Girdharlal D. Railway Manager whose decision will be final subject to appeal to His Highness the Maharaja Jam Saheb Bahadur.

This will apply to the passenger service only for the present but the scheme may be extended to goods traffic in due course if and when necessary.

The result of the scheme will be watched with interest as it is the solution of an All-India problem of Rail Road competition.

Torrential Rainfall Near Nainital

(From Our Correspondent.)
NAINITAL, July 9.

There has been heavy rains throughout hills from Nainital to Almora.

Rain has been specially heavy between Ranikhet and Nainital causing large number of hill slides resulting blocking of roads, but P.W.D. men are busy throughout the route, clearing at least enough road to allow motors pass. It is still raining.

CASTE HINDUS ASSAULT HARIJANS

Chamars Hold Feast Under Police-guard

AJMER, (By Mail.)

Syt. Shobhalal Gupta, Secretary, Rajputana Harijan Sewak Sangha writes:—

A few days ago on account of firing in the village of Gurli of the Jaipur State appeared in the Press. On enquiry, the following details of the incident have been made available to to us:—

Gurli is a small village in the Dausa Nizamat of the Jaipur State. The Harijans of the village have been suffering many indignities at the hands of the Caste Hindus, and were denied even the most elementary privileges of human beings. So far they were not allowed to use Ghee-made sweets on occasion of death and marriage ceremonies. Govindram, a Chamar Harijan of the village, who was materially well off, wanted to break the ice by arranging a feast of Ghee-made articles for the members of his community, in memory of his dead mother and the subsequent pilgrimage to the Holy Ganges. He, in the first instance along with certain Chamar Panchas approached prominent high caste people of the village to secure their permission for the feast, which was flatly refused with a threat of molestation.

Poor Govindram having been disappointed at the attitude of the caste Hindus, represented his case to the State Council of Jaipur and was successful in obtaining necessary permission from there. Orders were also issued to the local authorities at Sikrai Tehsil and Manpur Police Station to see that the Chamars were not obstructed in their legitimate pursuits. But the Gujara of the village were determined to frustrate the efforts of the Chamars at all costs. In the face of their organised resistance, the Tehsildar, it is said, advised Govindram to change the place of feast to some other village. Thereupon, Govindram requested the authorities of the Dausa Nizamat to take suitable steps for preserving peace as a result of which certain Gujars were bound down.

Later when the Chamars were taking foodstuffs from Bandikui in bullock carts numbering about fifty, a party of Gujars besieged them. The Chamars were frightened and fled away. Then the Nazim appeared on the scene, and on persuasions, the Gujars agreed to the proposal of the Chamars holding their feast at a distant place called "Dhola Gata."

CHAMARS ATTACKED.

Accordingly, foodstuffs were taken to Dhola Gata and preparations for the feast began to be made. Hardly the work of preparing 'laddoos' had been started than the Gujars again surrounded the place and adopted an offensive attitude. It is reported they killed a goat on a hillock and tilaks with its blood were stamped on the foreheads of all the Gujars and then with cries of "Bhanaji-Ki-Jai", they attacked the Chamars with 'lathis' and swords.

The Nazim and the Superintendent of Police both with a small force were present on the scene of the occurrence. In the first instance shots were fired in the air to frighten away the aggressive crowd. But the situation became graver and graver, and ultimately firing was resorted to. As a result, three Gujars were killed and many injured. Then the crowd dispersed. In the evening, the Inspector-General of Police visited the spot and police pickets were posted in the adjoining villages. It was under these tragic circumstances that the feast of the Chamars was held."

APPEAL FOR SYMPATHY.

Under the circumstances, we can only make an appeal to those who are favourably placed in our society to think over the situation dispassionately. In the name of Hindu religion, Mother India and humanity, we ask them to be more gentle and sympathetic to these unfortunate human beings whom we have unjustly styled as 'Untouchables.'

M. C. RAJAH'S BILL SUPPORTED

The Rajputana Provincial Board of the Harijan Sewak Sangha at its meeting on June 29, has passed a resolution supporting Rao Bahadur Rajah's Bill.

GLOWING TRIBUTES TO DEPARTED LEADER

"Dynamic Personality" Lost For Ever

communal conflicts in the Punjab. His death at this critical moment is a calamity. There is no one to replace him."

MAN OF GREAT ABILITY

Mr. M. A. Jinnah, President of the All-India Muslim League, interviewed said:

"Sir Fazli Hussein was a man of great ability and personality. I am extremely sorry to hear about his death and my sincerest sympathies go out to Lady Hussein and members of the family in their great bereavement. This is not an occasion to discuss the policy, programme and methods of political work of Sir Fazli Hussein, with whom I could not agree."

MOST FORCEFUL PERSONALITY

MADRAS, July 10.

"In the death of Sir Fazli Hussain, we have lost one of the most forceful personalities in recent times," said Sir C P. Ramaswami Iyer who arrived in Madras this morning from Trivandrum, when interviewed by the Associated Press. He added "I have been associated with him both in the Viceroy's council and as a fellow delegate to the League of Nations, and I have had occasions to learn a great deal of the method of his work and outlook on things in general.

Although he was devoted to the cause of his community and was very anxious to advance their interests, he was essentially a patriotic Indian. His driving power and his ability to get things done were of the greatest assistance to his own province for which he laboured incessantly.

He was also a vital figure in all India politics and his loss at this juncture is greatly to be deplored."—A. P.

MOST OUTSTANDING POLITICIAN

Sir H. P. Mody, interviewed said: "Sir Fazli Hussein's death removes one of the most outstanding politicians of India. I feel that in the new era he might have played even a more notable part than he ever did. Whatever may be said about his politics by his critics, it is undoubted that Sir Fazli had both vision and courage."

GREAT LOSS TO COUNTRY

Dr. G. V. Deshmukh, interviewed said: "In spite of the communal feelings, I think Sir Fazli Hussein was a great Indian. He did a great deal which could be really called national with regard to the Indian Research Fund Association and matters medical. I think his death is a great loss to the country. Outside the office and service atmosphere, it is likely, he would have dropped his communal feelings."

LOSS IRREPARABLE

Sir Sikander Hyat Khan, Deputy Governor, Reserve Bank of India has given the following statement to the Associated Press on the death of Sir Fazli Hussein:

The news of Sir Fazl-I-Hussain's death has come as a stunning shock to me as it must have to his numerous friends and admirers throughout India and abroad. The passing away of a great and towering personality like Sir Fazli—who for more than two decades commanded the unswerving loyalty and confidence of his community, and the esteem and respect of his countrymen, as one of their foremost leaders—at a time when his guidance and leadership were most needed is a calamity which India could ill-afford to bear at this critical juncture in its constitutional history.

His patriotism and high sense of duty can be appreciated from the fact that in spite of his indifferent and failing health he undertook ungrudgingly, the onerous task of reorganizing the unionist party of the Punjab, and continued to give of his best to his country and the province till the very end.

He never for once allowed considerations of his own health and comfort to deter him or make him relax his activities and efforts towards the achievements of the patriotic ideal which he had set before him. It is barely a fortnight ago that he sent for me at Dalhousie. I found him quite cheerful and as keen as ever about the work which lay ahead.

He described to me the latest symptoms of his long-standing disease and showed me the doctor's opinion which were both disquieting, but nevertheless he was devoting nearly eight hours a day to his work. He discussed with me future plans for nearly 2 hours and was throughout cheerful and full of hope for the future.

Little did we know at the time that the end was so near. When I entreated him to take it easy and not to tax his energy over much as he was doing, he said "it is too late in the day to cry halt now. I have carried on, in spite of my ailment, for 20 years and more and will continue to carry on until I have exhausted the last ounce of energy left in me.

What better could I wish for than to die in harness for the sake of my province and my country". These were almost the last words to me of that great man, and indicate the indomitable courage, patriotism, and spirit of self sacrifice with which he was imbued.

Sir Fazli's death has deprived India of a trusted leader and tried administrator. His loss is irreparable and will be universally mourned by his countrymen both here and abroad.—A. P.

"DYNAMIC PERSONALITY DISAPPEARS"

LAHORE, July 10.

A gloom has been cast over Lahore owing to the death of Mian Sir Fazl-I-Hussain and almost a complete hartal is being observed since morning. All Muslim shops are being closed, without an exception. Great grief is felt by all sections for Sir Fazli had played a prominent part in the political life of the Province over a quarter of a century.

CAREER AS CONGRESSMAN.

Beginning his career as a Congressman, he parted company with that organization since the days of the Non-Co-operation movement and engaged himself heart and soul in service to his own community and the Government whom he served, till the last moment of his life with devoted enthusiasm and died in harness as the Education Minister of the Punjab.

UNEQUALLED ADMINISTRATOR.

It is being held here that it is difficult to find his equal in the Punjab as Administrator, politician and Diplomat and, as a strategist of the first order, he had few equals in his province.

Enquiries made into the circumstances of his death reveal that at about 9 p.m. yesterday night he began to show signs of failing strength, but doctors did not expect so early a collapse.

Sir Fazli was having indifferent health for several years and fell ill on his arrival at Lahore about ten days and from Dalhousie where he had gone for a change he developed acute ureaemia and from time to time became unconscious. When this condition continued doctors realised that his chances of recovery were very slender. Although at times his condition showed marked improvement in the eyes of some who examined him, nobody sounded a hopeful note.

BLOW TO COMMUNITY.

His death is a severe blow to his community in particular whose accredited leader he was. He was to be the first Chief Minister of the Punjab under the coming Reforms.

Due to the eleventh-hour change in the programme, funeral prayers will be offered in Islamia College grounds instead of in the Lawrence Garden as was originally settled. This morning before taking the body to Batala, a procession carrying the bier starts at 8 and passing through the Empress Road and the Brandreth Road, will terminate at Islamia College grounds.

As the sad news spread thousands of Hindus, Muslims and Sikhs, gathered at Sir Fazli's house on the Empress Road anxious to have a last look at his body.

Eloquent tributes to the memory of the deceased were paid by all sections of Press, who brought out black-bordered issues this morning conveying the sad news.

"DYNAMIC PERSONALITY" GONE

The "Tribune" writes:—"The dynamic personality has disappeared. Sir Fazli dominated the Punjab politics for a period of 15 years and thus influenced the course of events in the country. His death, caused widespread regret. Though he changed his creed one cannot ignore the fact that he belonged to the old brave band of Congressmen that initiated the fight for freedom in the Punjab."

IMMENSE TRAGEDY TO PUNJAB.

The "People" says: "Immense tragedy has befallen Punjab in the death of Sir Fazli Hussain. In the shock caused by his passing away it is almost impossible to estimate the reactions of occurrence on our political life, for a friend and foe will testify that India has hardly produced a more remarkable figure, a man with superb political insight and grasp in public affairs.—United Press.

Govt. Offices To Be Closed

SIMLA, July 10.

A communique says:—

The offices of the Government of India will be closed to-morrow as a mark of respect to the memory of late Sir Fazli Hussain.—A.P.

SIMLA IN GLOOM

SIMLA, July 10.

The news of Sir Fazli Hussain has cast a gloom in Simla. In the Assembly and Secretariat circles, the talk of "irreparable loss which Punjab and the whole country sustained in Sir Fazli's death, whose contribution in moulding the politics and destiny of the country" is considerable. The fact he would have played a great role under the Provincial Autonomy had he lived, adds poignancy to his death at this critical juncture.

It is understood the Government of India offices will remain closed to-morrow.—United Press.

PROMOTER OF NATIONAL INTERESTS

Sir Ibrahim Rahimtoola interviewed said:—

"The passing away of Sir Fazli Hussein at this juncture is a great national loss. Those who came into intimate contact with him knew how zealous he was to promote the national interests of India. I regard his loss to the country as irreparable."

IRREPARABLE LOSS TO PUNJAB

LAHORE, July 9.

"An irreparable loss to the province, particularly on the eve of the new Constitution." This sums up the feeling in Lahore on Sir Fazli Husain's death. The founder and leader of the Unionist Party (the majority party in the Provincial Legislature), Sir Fazli Husain was popularly expected to be the first Chief Minister of the province under the Reforms.

His passing away may change the whole complexion of the political history of the province at this stage.—A.P.

HIS EARLY ASSOCIATION WITH CONGRESS

(From Our Correspondent.)

AMRITSAR, July 10.

All sections of the press and all shades of public opinion are unanimous in their bestowal of praise on the departed Muslim leader whose political Sagacity and acumen are prominently mentioned. The English Daily of Lahore eulogising his services attributes his success in politics to his association with the Congress in earlier stages of his life, when he initiated in this province the battle for the country's freedom.

brutal overthrow of the German. It was not only Joe Louis that was defeated. Our German comrade had saved the reputation of the white race. Schmeling's victory was not only sport, it was a question of prestige of our race and with his hard fists he has won the respect of the world for the German nation." The wisdom of such remarks, mixing sport and colour and race, apart from other issues, when the Olympic Games to be held in Germany are approaching, will be wondered at. Meanwhile it is also interesting to read the "National Zeitung" of Essen that stands near to General Goering writing "in connection with the Olympic Games":—The Olympic Games must and will be used to carry on propaganda for the new Germany of Adolf Hitler. and to disperse so far as is possible, wrong concepts prevalent abroad about us. This, apart from the sport angle, will be their highest and ultimate value." The paper refers to the need of mobilization of all available means at disposal for this purpose.

YOUR HEART is protesting—

When Work-time lacks Interest

When Playtime lacks Pleasure

When Life becomes lifeless—

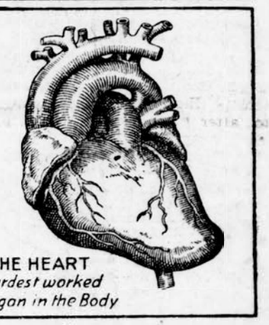
THINK OF IT!

The Human Heart

PULSATES 100,800 TIMES EVERY DAY—

PUMPS EIGHT TONS OF BLOOD EVERY DAY—

USES 14 POUNDS OF PRESSURE FOR EVERY CONTRACTION—



THE HEART
Hardest worked Organ in the Body

The duty of the Arteries is to convey the Blood to every part of the Body and thus feed the vital Body cells. The Blood is always moving—in some cases as fast as 16 inches per second—and upon its normal flow, life depends. If the blood is restricted in some way, the Health suffers immediately because the constantly wearing tissue composed of blood cells is deprived of new nourishment. The Heart causes the Blood to circulate and any disorder of the Arteries must lead to disorder of the Heart.

During middle life, though often before, lime salt deposits in the Arteries render them narrow and brittle. This means that greater force is required to pump the blood through the narrow arteries, thus producing heavy pressure and extra work upon the heart valves. This disorder is known as High Blood Pressure and in simple language means that your Heart is protesting because the blood cannot flow through the Arteries in a normal easy manner.

Fallacies Concerning High Blood Pressure.

There is a widespread belief that High Blood Pressure is due to 'too much blood' or 'blood that is too rich.' Actually the quantity or quality of the blood has nothing to do with the 'pressure.' It is, therefore, unwise to deprive yourself of foods known to make blood or enrich blood if you are a victim of High Blood Pressure. The sensible treatment is, without question, a course of 'Phyllosan' Tablets.

What are 'Phyllosan' Tablets?

The chief constituent of 'Phyllosan' Tablets is a vegetable extract which eminent scientists have described as being 'the most wonderful substance in our world.' It is extracted from the green leaves of Nature and in its concentrated form, supplies a vitalizing, rejuvenating substance upon which every living thing in this world depends. Dr. Buergi, M.D., of Berne University, Switzerland, under whose personal supervision 'Phyllosan' Tablets are made, spent 15 years critical research before he succeeded in isolating this wonderful substance without detriment to its vitalizing power.

DON'T GIVE IT EXTRA WORK

Renewed Blood Stream within 14 Days.

A course of 'Phyllosan' Tablets quickly builds up the supply of red cells (the lack of which results in Anæmia) rejuvenates your Arteries, corrects your Blood Pressure, fortifies your Heart and INCREASES ALL YOUR PHYSICAL AND VITAL FORCES IRRESPECTIVE OF AGE. It has been established beyond all doubt that 'Phyllosan' Tablets renew the Blood-stream within 14 days. For Men, Women and particularly Children (suffering with Anæmia) there is no finer remedy in the world to-day!

IMPORTANT.

'Phyllosan' Tablets are perfectly harmless and can be taken by the youngest and most delicate persons with complete confidence. 'Phyllosan' Tablets contain neither drugs nor glands nor animal extracts and in their preparation, are untouched by hand throughout.

SHE DREADED GOING UPSTAIRS

Woman's Fear of Rheumatic Pains

KRUSCHEN BROUGHT RELIEF

One of the many troubles that afflict rheumatic sufferers is the difficulty of getting up and down stairs. Such was the case with this woman, before she started taking Kruschen, but now she finds it no trouble. Read what she says:—

"I have been taking Kruschen now for over 12 months, a half-teaspoonful in hot water first thing in the morning, and I feel a new woman. I had very painful rheumatism in my knees and back and also my head was getting very bad. I used to dread walking upstairs, now I am very thankful to say it is no trouble at all and I scarcely have any pains. I don't diet at all except to eat more fruit than I used to, and yet my weight is decreasing slowly, which is all I want. I was 14 stone 4 lbs. last year, now I am 13 stone 6 lbs., and I feel better in health than I have done for years."—(Mrs.) G. M.

Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts are the most effectual solvents of uric acid known to medical science. They swiftly dull the sharp edges of the painful crystals, then convert them into a harmless solution. Other ingredients of these Salts have a stimulating effect upon the kidneys, and assist them to expel the dissolved uratic needles through the natural channel.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Chemists, Stores and Bazars.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEWS

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Bombay, July 10

MONEY

Money was steadier during the early part of the week, Call funds being quoted at 1 per cent, but was easy during the latter part, day-to-day funds being available at 1/2 per cent.

This week's Treasury Bills fetched Rs. 0-10-11 per cent compared to Rs. 0-13-0 per cent last week. Total applications amounted to Rs. 4.08 crores, of which Rs. 2 crores were accepted at an average rate of Rs. 0-10-11 per cent. Maturities amounted to Rs. 1 crore. In addition through the purchase of £890,000 sterling by the Government about Rs. 1.18 crores were put on the market. Thus there was a nett influx of about Rs. 18 lakhs. Fixed deposit rates are unchanged at 3/4 per cent and 1 per cent for three months and six months respectively.

The Bank of Netherlands has reduced its discount rate from 3 1/2 to 3 per cent with effect from July 7, 1936.

RESERVE BANK

The Reserve Bank of India statement for the week ended July 3, 1936 shows an increase of Rs. 62.38 lakhs in the total value of the notes issued against a corresponding rise of Rs. 62.43 lakhs in Rupee coin. Notes in circulation declined by Rs. 104.12 lakhs while those held in the Banking Department increased by Rs. 166.50 lakhs. Sterling securities were unchanged at Rs. 68.32 crores whereas Rupee securities were down by Rs. 65 lakhs. Government Deposits, which include £77,600 held in London on account of the High Commissioner converted at 1s. 6d. to the rupee, decreased by Rs. 255.68 lakhs, and Banks' Deposits by Rs. 20.79 lakhs to Rs. 30.34 crores. Balances held abroad were down by Rs. 158.60 lakhs to Rs. 14.24 crores. Investments fell by Rs. .11 lakhs and Other Assets recorded an increase of Rs. 9.11 lakhs. The bank rate is unchanged at 3 per cent.

IMPERIAL BANK

The Imperial Bank of India statement as on July 3, 1936 shows a fall of Rs. 104.71 lakhs in the total cash balance of the bank, which now stands at Rs. 19.43 crores. Security portfolio further decreased by Rs. 33.79 lakhs to Rs. 42.53 crores. Loans and Cash Credits were down by Rs. .91 lakhs and Rs. 5.15 lakhs respectively. The item Bills discounted and purchased has increased by Rs. 106.73 lakhs. Deposits on all accounts recorded a decrease of Rs. 20.71 lakhs. It is understood that the Imperial Bank of India advance rate is unchanged at 3 per cent.

GILTEDGED MARKET

Giltedged were fully steady with an upward tendency owing to large funds seeking investment in the market. 3 1/2 per cent Rupee Paper advanced from Rs. 99-4 to Rs. 99-12, as a result of the strength of 3 1/2 per cent India Sterling Stock in the London market, which moved up from £98 to £98 1/2. Other scrips improved proportionately. 2 3/4 per cent 1948-52 new loan is quoted at a premium of eight annas. 3 per cent 1951-54 and 4 per cent 1960-70 loans changed hands at Rs. 103-8 and Rs. 115-8 respectively. 5 per cent 1945-55 (tax free) loan was wanted at Rs. 121; 5 per cent 1940-43 at Rs. 111-1 and 5 per cent 1939-44 at Rs. 108-12. 3 per cent 1941 loan closed at Rs. 104-8; 3 1/2 per cent 1947-50 at Rs. 107-6 and 5 1/2 per cent 1938-40 at Rs. 107-9. 4 per cent 1943 bonds moved up from Rs. 110-12 to Rs. 111-2 and 4 1/2 per cent 1955-60 loan was steady at about Rs. 119-10.

Cloth Market

Bombay, July 10

Following a sharp rise in raw cotton prices as a result of bullish Bureau report the local cloth market displayed good undertone. The business done was small but there was a distinct improvement. Local Mill Cloth and Japanese Cloth were in fair demand but little business is reported in Lancashire. Prices are steady with Liepman 1500 quoted at Rs. 12/3. Manchester is quoting higher prices. In view of negotiations with Japanese delegates, dealers are not inclined to book business in Japanese cloth but local sales are active. One local mill have sold about 7000 bales of greys on the basis of annas nine. Other mills have also done scattered sales.

AMERICAN COTTON

BOMBAY July 10

On Thursday the New York cotton futures market declined early on lower Liverpool advices but rallied later on Wall Street buying. Prices again declined on partially realising. There was firmness of New Orleans Market and scarcity of contracts. There was trade and new speculative buying on bullish acreage report. Prices rose to new high levels at one time during the day. There was no special news but the market continued to reflect the small acreage figures. Moreover with Government out of the futures market, the public were more confident. After previous days sharp advance many cotton bulls have withdrawn cloth prices "pro-tem" with a view to examining the spot cotton situation and the sudden change in the cloth market position left numerous mills unprepared. The Government report on the acreage stated that there were very marked increases in irrigated areas of the far West.

The New York cotton futures market opened at a decline of 2 points with October 12.46. There was some realising on lower Liverpool advices and prices declined further by 9 points and October was quoted 12.37 which was the lowest level for the day.

At this level there was cessation of selling and prices easily recovered lost points on trade buying. There was some speculative and Wall Street buying which raised prices 28 points from the lowest level and October was quoted 12.65, a new high level for this option.

The rise again attracted heavy realising which wiped off some of the improvement and the market closed at a net decline of 2 points to a rise of 9 points spot Cotton prices were raised by 5 points at 13.24c. per lb.

The New Orleans cotton futures market was quiet but steady and closed at a rise of 6 to 9 points Spot cotton prices declined 6 points at 13.24c. per lb.

The Liverpool Cotton futures market opened at a rise of 9 points with October 6.70. There was mixed general business with sellers predominating. There was also profit taking on favourable weather. Trade gave support to near positions. Later on the market was influenced by favourable weather. Prices declined on liquidation and profit taking. There was light straddle buying which was the only offtake. The market closed at a rise of 4 to 3 points. Middling American spot cotton prices advanced 28 points at 7.52d. per lb.

East Indian Cotton futures market was steady and closed at a rise of 2 pts. At the close July was quoted 5.94, October 5.75 January 5.70.

Egyptian Cotton market was easy on increased selling. Sakels futures declined 2 to 6 points with spot cotton 30 points up at 10.14d. Uppers futures closed unchanged to 3 points lower with spot cotton 23 points up at 8.44.d.

The Alexandria Cotton market was strong on bullish American advices. Sakels futures closed 51 to 60 points up and Ashmouni futures rose 33 to 45 points.

PRIVATE CABLES—

New York October highest (2-32 p.m.)	12.65+17
New York October lowest (11-6 a.m.)	12.37—11
Liverpool October highest	6.71+10
Liverpool October lowest	6.64+03

Messrs. Chunilal Mehta and Co. have received to-day the following cable information from their foreign friends:

Liverpool: Weather reports favourable but Bureau Report has greatly excited our market which emphasises bullish prospect. We expect an active market with wide fluctuations but feel bullish on the whole.

New York: Heavy realising by recent buyers. With continued strength of spots, think higher prices likely, the extent of the advance chiefly depending on crop progress.

STOCK EXCHANGE

Bombay, July 10.

The local Share Bazar opened steady but declined few points on scattered liquidation. Later on there was some buying which improved prices and the market closed very steady. There was a fairly large business to-day during the one hour session. The undertone of the market was good general feeling continues bullish and while there is less desire to buy after the recent rise, it is generally feared that short sales would be dangerous.

The market is highly speculative and during the last two months steel shares show a rise well over 50 per cent This may be due to unduly low prices ruling during the first week of the month of May but since then prices have advanced by leaps and bounds and today's closing quotations are so for the highest. Even best students of statistics and well informed investors were tempted to realise profits around Rs. 700 for steel Deferreds but these offerings have now passed into weaker hands. Professional operators are giving constant support—and prices are going up. New stories are daily told on the floor and the general public who is always optimistic believes such stories. Cheapness of money and promising outlook of our various industries have arrested the attention of the market and new buyers are coming in with a belief of realising profits at higher prices. This state will continue as long as professionals are supporting the market, but when the support will be withdrawn it will be almost difficult to find buyers except on big drops.

Bombay Dyeing shares opened to-day at Rs. 720 and declined to Rs. 716 while Central India shares opened at Rs. 273 and closed at Rs. 268-12. Indian Cement shares opened at Rs 531 and declined to Rs. 527 but prices rallied to Rs. 532/8. Shahabads were steady at Rs. 505. Andhras moved within a narrow range. Powers opened at Rs. 1670 and after declining to Rs. 1,663 closed at Rs. 1667.

Tata Steel Deferred shares opened at Rs. 770 and after declining to Rs. 763 improved to Rs. 771-4 and ordinary shares opened at Rs 188/8 and closed at Rs. 188-4 Bombay Burma shares opened at Rs. 560 and were marked down to Rs. 547 but rallied to Rs. 551.

BROACH EXPECTATION

April May ..... Rs. 229-8

N. Y. COTTON MARKET

New York, July 10.

Cotton continued to display an upward tendency following steadiness abroad and persistent trade and speculative buying influenced by improved statistical position. Despite favourable weather conditions prices soared steadily on varied buying with very little pressure to sell.

Operations in October began at 12.58 i.e. 12 points higher than previous closing. Prices advanced on higher Liverpool cables and trade, speculative, Wall Street, foreign and domestic buying under the influence of which October gradually rose to 12.69 when renewed buying activity carried the rate to 12.75 with a very steady tendency.

New York cotton finally closed at 12.75 with a rise of 29 points for October delivery.

BOMBAY BULLION

Bombay, July 10.

Silver opened steady at Rs. 49/2, 49/2 and 49/3. The market was fairly active on scattered local and upcountry enquiry influenced by steadiness abroad coupled with better London cables but subsequently the market suffered a slight setback on realising and closed quiet at Rs. 49/1, 49/1 and 49/2.

Gold opened quietly steady at Rs. 34/5/3, 34/5/6 and 34/6. There was very little doing owing to the lack of any important cables from abroad and prices moved in a narrow margin and closed steady at Rs. 34/5, 34/5 and 34/5/6. Wheat closed steady 4/10, 4/11/6, Linseed quiet 7/12/3.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE

London, July 10. 3-30 p.m.

The London Stock Exchange was quiet and inactive in the absence of any important enquiry. Giltedged securities kept fairly steady but there was nothing doing.

On the lack of any fresh incentive to stimulate buying interest general business was poor. Home industrials in general after being firm were quiet and price movements rather irregular. Internationals were firmer on better. Wall Street advices.

DELEGATES TO STATES' PEOPLES' CONFERENCE

Steamer Facilities For Voyage

The Secretary of The Indian States' People Conference writes:

Dr. Pattabhi Sitaramaiya, the President-elect of the fifth session of the Indian States' Peoples Conference, to be held at Karachi on 18th and 19th July, will arrive in Bombay on the 14th instant. The President and a party of delegates including prominent workers of the Conference will sail from Bombay for Karachi by s.s. "Sonavati" of the Bombay Steam Navigation Company on 14th night.

The steamer Company has given a concession of charging 1½ the usual fare for the double journey for those attending the Conference.

The delegates who propose to sail by the said steamer are requested to communicate to the Conference Office, 139, Medows Street, Fort, Bombay, and are required to be in Bombay on the 14th morning.

It is understood that Pandit Jawaharlal, the Congress President, will travel by train and will reach Karachi direct on the 18th.

PUBLIC RECEPTION TO INDIAN AIRMAN

Messrs. Dalal, Pochkhanawalla and Manmohan Singh, who, under great hardships, flew from India to Cape Town and back a few months ago, will be given a public reception by the Parsis of Bombay on Sunday (12th inst.) at the Royal Opera House at 10 a.m. Handsome silver souvenirs and gold medals will be presented to them.

A programme of Indian music, gymnastics and cinema show is arranged. The show is open to Parsis. The Orchestra Class is reserved for card-holders only. Sir Hormazdier P. H. Dastoor, Kt., Bar-at-Law, has kindly consented to preside.

A CRITIC OF JAWAHARLAL

the past acted as an expedient and an effective expedient but there is also no doubt that the country is now sufficiently political to examine and accept or reject social programmes on their own merit. And the anti-religion of socialism is more the bogey of the capitalist trustees than of the masses themselves

Final Fling

Sir Jehangir could not restrain himself from a final fling at Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru. Pandit Nehru who had advised a Bengal conference of students in 1928 to have a clear-cut vision is told to apply the advice to himself. Sir Jehangir was then a professor of economics at a Calcutta College. Since then, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru has often paid the price of his convictions, has undergone a lot of political evolution and has, certainly, impressed millions of his countrymen with his ideas. The Professor is now a Knight of the British Empire. I think that there is not much usefulness nor scope for either of these two to revise and clarify his ideas of social reconstruction.

Mr. THAKKAR'S AWARD

Will Broach Municipality Hasten Its Execution

(From A Correspondent.)

BROACH, July 9.

Acute discontent is still sizzling among the scanvangers here.

Sjt. Amritlal Thakkar's award on the Bhangis' demands was received here on June 17th last. The President of the Municipality had given his word of honour to Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru that he would get his Municipality to comply with the terms of the award within one month after its publication. It was really on the basis of this promise that the Bhangis were induced to resume work after their strike of 45 days.

Now three weeks have already gone by. Yet the President of the Municipality has not even placed the matter on the agenda of the Municipal meeting. A rival union which was admitted by Sjt. Thakkar to be a much smaller one is being placated by the Municipal Executive.

The rank and file of the Bhangis are wide awake and closely watching the tactics of the Municipality. They have already approved of Sjt. Thakkar's award though it fell short of their demands. Will the Municipal President see that his colleagues implement all the terms of the award written the next few days?

The limit of one month will expire on July 17th. Let the President remember this date and do the needful at double quick pace.

Three Arts' Send-off To Italian Consul

(From A Correspondent)

The 3 Arts Reception to H. E. Count Caravonica the Italian Consul General, on Sunday last was a great success.

The speakers were Atiya Begum, Dr. Byram Talookdar, Peof. Jadhav, Mr. P. C. Tarapore, all of whom regretted His Excellency's departure at a time when India was just beginning to realize the valuable Mission Italy was discharging in appreciating Arts and Cultures of the Oriental Races. Italy was devoted to Arts and appreciated the cultures of the Orient and was, therefore, devoted to the Oriental races. The aim of the 3 Arts Academy was very near to the heart of the Italian people and Rome would welcome a visit from any of its members.

Miss Rebello and Miss Rawshen entertained the guests. Handsome souvenirs were presented to His Excellency and to Mr. Edward Terry and Sapur Mody for his interest in the 3 Arts.

LUCKNOW MANDATE AND NATION'S DUTY

"Make Perfect Roll Campaign More Successful"

PARLIAMENTARY LEADERS' APPEAL TO BOMBAY

Persons who were duly qualified as voters, but who were not registered as such, should take the opportunity when the Provincial Election Rolls was published by August 11, said Sirdar Vallabhbhai Patel, presiding over a public meeting, held on Friday night at Mahajan Wadi, Kalba devi, Bombay, in connection with the Congress Election Campaign.

Stupendous Campaign

Babu Rajendra Prasad, speaking at the meeting observed that the campaign launched by the Congress was almost a stupendous one, but the Congress placed its fullest confidence in the people generally and in the three crores of voters particularly in the country, for its success.

PLEA FOR CO-OPERATION

Mr. Nagindas T. Master, President of the C (Bhuleshwar) Ward District Congress Committee in requesting Sirdar Vallabhbhai Patel to preside over the meeting said that the Parliamentary Committee of the Congress made Bombay their Headquarters in connection with the elections to the legislatures under the new Constitution.

Sirdar Vallabhbhai and Babu Rajendra Prasad inaugurated the campaign and it was upto the people to co-operate with them in the very heavy task before the Committee.

Bombay had always given the lead and the C Ward had never lagged behind. Even in the "perfect roll" campaign, the C Ward workers were able to enrol 10,000 new voters. There was still an opportunity for further perfecting the rolls when the provisional rolls were published. He then requested the Sirdar to preside.

Sirdar Vallabhbhai Patel said that according to the decisions taken at the Lucknow Congress, elections had to be contested in all the provinces. In February or March next year, these elections were likely to be held all over the country and the Congress had to approach the three crores of voters before the elections.

BOMBAY'S DUTY

Sirdar Vallabhbhai explained that all over the country the campaign would be carried on to educate the voters and to obtain their support. Bombay was in the fore-front of every national activity and it was but legitimate that the country-wide campaign should first be inaugurated in Bombay.

While the task before the Congress was thus a heavy one, it was also to be expected that several parties would crop up who might seek entry into legislatures on the grounds other than those put forward by the Congress. For instance, there was the "Justice" Party in Madras.

What was the duty of the voters in such circumstances? The foremost duty of every person duly qualified to be voter was to see that his or her name was on the electoral roll. By August 11 next, the provisional roll of voters would be published and a period of 10 days would be allowed during which any claims could be made. It was necessary that every qualified person was registered duly on the electoral rolls.

'BONA FIDES' OF CANDIDATES

It was essential that all differences should now be sunk and the people must unite and work for the success of the Congress candidates. They could learn the lesson from the Englishmen who never quarrelled among themselves in this country, but carried on their work and were thus able to rule over the Indians.

Some might ask the question what was the use of the Congress entering the legislatures? But he wanted to say that people should have faith in the 'bona fides' of the Congress candidates, who were bound by party discipline. It was futile questioning the wisdom of Council-entry at this stage. If once the Congress had decided on a particular programme it was the duty of every one to carry out that programme with determination.

Sirdar Vallabhbhai said that it rested with the people whether new parties would be allowed to spring up against the Congress. The Indian National Congress had sufficiently grown in power and the popular support behind was such that other parties would not be in a position to fight the Congress candidates, successfully.

LUCKNOW MANDATE

Babu Rajendra Prasad observed that at the Lucknow session of the Indian National Congress, an important decision was taken that the Congress candidates should capture all the available seats in the legislatures under the new reforms. Three crores and more of voters had to be approached and their support obtained for the programme of the Indian National Congress. The work before the Congress Parliamentary Committee could be described as almost stupendous. But the Lucknow Congress decided on the Council-entry programme, with the fullest confidence in the people of this land, who had always stood by the Congress through thick and thin. Whether enrolled as a member of the Congress or not, every Indian knew what the Congress had stood for and what it represented. During the last civil disobedience movement, there were thousands of people who were not members of the Congress, but who participated all the same in the movement. They were prepared to face any amount of suffering and hardship.

POPULAR SUPPORT.

At that time, these thousands who participated in the movement did not ask, what the utility of the civil disobedience movement would be in the long run? They had the faith and the confidence in the Indian National Congress and they realised that the campaign was intended for the ultimate attainment of the goal of Swaraj for India. When Mahatma Gandhi started the civil disobedience campaign he had the full confidence in the people of the country and once he made up his mind, he knew that the people were behind him.

With the same faith and trust in the strength and the solidarity of the people behind the Congress that the Lucknow session came to the decision that Congressmen should capture legislatures.

Rajen Babu recalled the Champaran movement which was led by Mahatma Gandhi. When doubts were expressed regarding the success of the movement, Gandhiji who led the campaign replied that though he had no weapons to fight the opponents he had an unlimited capacity to suffer for the cause he considered just.

To-day the people had acquired that capacity to suffer and sacrifice for the liberation of their country and it was with this realisation that the Lucknow Congress decided on Council-entry.

STATUS OF THE CONGRESS

A nation-wide electioneering campaign was launched by the Congress, because the Congress believed that the organisation had attained such a status and recognition at the hands of the people of India, that they would endorse the Congress programme and policy which were devised in the best interests of the country.

Rajen Babu exhorted the public to make the "perfect roll" campaign more successful than it had been hitherto, by bringing on the register larger numbers of qualified men and women, when the provisional rolls would be revised. The greater, the number of voters the more difficult would be the task of those who sought to exploit the voters for their own benefit, and the task of the Congress would be the easier.

For, the path which the Indian National Congress pursued all these years, was a straight one and its goal was Swaraj for India. It was, therefore, not necessary that every voter should be brought in a motor-car to the polling booth. It was necessary that the message of the Congress should reach every one in the country and wake him up to a sense of his responsibility and his duty to the country and the Congress.

BOMBAY: SATURDAY, JULY 11, 1936

Towards Brighter Bombay

Dangers Of Neglecting House Repairs

TENANTS' TROUBLES: LANDLORDS' DUTIES

VI

The physical deterioration to landed property is dilapidation. In Bombay, to-day, there are thousands of dwellings without even the hope of minor repairs, leave alone tackling the major repairs. These buildings are not only a standing disgrace to the City, but are occupied by our fellow-citizens.

Try this experiment. Merely make your train window your observation platform as you travel to and from the business centre of our city. What do you see? Dirty smoking rooms, "pan bazaars" and "liquor shops" next door to sagging "homes." What is the condition of these so-called homes? They have bad foundations, rickety stairs, unlighted passages and they are crowded in dingy rows squeezed close together. What is more surprising is that there is not a single decent home in sight.

From the doorway of our run-down houses danger always peers out. It is a constant threat to city's health. It is a drain on its own pocket-book as well as of the private citizen. There is a heavy penalty economically and socially for failure to control the destiny of the neighbourhood.

What is more, the heavy burden of taxation falls more on the property-owner than on the tenant. Hence it is to the advantage of the owner to provide a better home and a better surrounding which tend to ennance the paying capacity of the tenant and thus minimise the burden shouldered by the owner of the property.

The slum-land "homes" of the poor of Bombay.

Tenants' Troubles.

When questioned by a representative of the "Chronicle," one member of a middle-class family declared: "In this two-room flat, my brother, his wife and two children besides my wife, myself and my three children have been living for the last ten years. The landlord sends his Bhayya regularly every month to collect our rent of Rs. 40. But only after a great pressure does the landlord send his men once in four years to whitewasn the rooms. The building is not solid. The plastering is not properly laid. Crumbs of paint from the walls and ceiling fall in our food. The flooring is not well laid. Ants and insects always flourish in this building. There are no galleries on two sides. What is more the landlord does not allow the tenants to use the terrace. Then there is no telephone in the building. These are our greatest troubles although there are many more. What can we do, we are helpless and are victims of such merciless exploitation."

No Justice for the Poor.

In another section of our city, the "Chronicle's" representative questioned a man of labouring class: "I have a large family to support. My widowed mother, two unmarried sisters, my wife and four children, all live in this one room. One night my feeble mother was returning late after visiting her relatives. Since there is no light in the passage way, groping in the dark, she misstepped and fell crashing to the ground floor. To our great misfortune her leg bones were broken. From that time on she has been an invalid. Every night she groans from pain and suffers much from sleeplessness. I have to pay rent regularly and can't afford to pay for medical care for her. Besides this trouble the room itself is always damp. We have no water tap. Doors are sagging. Window panels are broken. Mud and peelings of plaster fall from ceiling and walls. Since we occupied the room, the authorities never had it whitewashed. There are no sufficient lavatories. There is no playground for our children. These miseries we are by force of circumstances made to suffer day in and day out. Is there no justice for us poor people? Where does all the money we pay go? Can't the authorities repair, clean, whitewash and provide other facilities for so many of us living in these chawls?

Need for Wider Streets.

Interviewed by our representative, Mr. Manu Subedar declared: "I give the highest place in creating a Brighter Bombay to street widening for which I have put forward a scheme for arming the Municipality with special powers under a special Act, by which the Municipality will be able to declare, subject to the sanction of Government, a street and within twelve months to acquire all strips of land, which come within the street line. The same Act would also empower the Municipality to make payment in the form of municipal bonds at the last issue price. But street widening would not remove other sources of ugliness and ill-health in the city. What is essential is a stricter enforcement of existing municipal by-laws with regard to buildings and the elimination of all so-called "semi-permanent" buildings for the construction of which the Municipality gave permission for a short time, but which were continued indefinitely, so that some of these live sources of diseases continued into existence for thirty years or more. The authority, whose living function should be to prevent over-crowding and to prevent the continuance of ill-constructed ancient uninhabitable houses built before the regulations came to be enforced, or built in spite of the regulations on the pretext of temporary permission, is the Municipal Corporation, and I should be very happy if the Corporators, instead of talking so much on all sorts of outside topics, were to turn their attention to this matter."

For Readers' Views on this subject see Page 8.

What Landlords Must Do.

Mr. P. P. Kapadia, President of the Indian Institute of Architects, suggests in his article entitled "Bombay Municipal Building Regulations—Their Evolution —Their Defects—A New Suggestions," published in the Journal of the Indian Institute of Architects for January, 1935 that the landlord and municipality should immediately:—

"1. Construct more buildings with modern fittings and conveniences.

"2. Inspect all buildings for fire hazard and other defects.

"3. Repair or pull down all old structures."

What have we done so far in building construction, inspection, and repairs? Should not the Municipality and citizens take action immediately to uphold our civic pride? If we have neglected so far, the time for action is now.

Last Tribute To Departed Leader

All Communities Join Sir Fazli Hussain's Funeral Procession

"Lost Not Only Colleague But Personal Friend" Says Punjab Satrap

ALL INDIA MOURNS LOSS OF DYNAMIC PERSONALITY

LAHORE, July 10.

All communities, Muslims, Hindus, Sikhs and Parsis gathered in the house of Sir Fazli Hussain to pay their last tribute to one who had dominated the politics of the Provinces for over a decade and half by sheer ability. Signs of grief were evident and the party leaders of all communities joined in expression of sorrow.

The funeral procession started from the residence of Sir Fazli situated in the Empress Road and reached Islamia College several persons joining the procession all along the route. After prayers were held, the body was removed to Batala accompanied by his close relatives and prominent leaders and a party of men.

All courts and Government offices are closed to-day and flags have been half-masted.

VICEROY'S MESSAGE OF SYMPATHY

SIMLA, July 10.

Numerous messages of sympathy to Mian Nasim Hussain, Extra-Assistant Commissioner, Lahore, on the death of his father, Sir Fazl-I-Hussain have been sent from Simla.

The Viceroy's message reads as follows: "I send my sincere sympathy on your father's death."

The Governor of Punjab wired: "Will you and your family please to accept the very deep sympathy of my wife and myself in your great sorrow. By your father's death I have lost not only a colleague whose advice and assistance were invaluable, but also a personal friend whose close friendship I have enjoyed for many years.

The Punjab has lost one who gave her devoted service and whom she could ill-spare at the present time."

Punjab Secretariat Closed

The Punjab Government Secretariat has been closed to-day as a mark of respect to the memory of Sir Fazl-I-Hussain.

Orders are being issued to-day closing the Government of India Secretariat to-morrow.

Sir Mahomed Zafrullah, Commerce Member is proceeding to Lahore to-morrow evening to pay a condolence visit to Sir Fazl-I's family. He will be returning to Simla on Monday. The reason why he could not go to Lahore immediately is pressure of official business at Simla, specially in connection with the Indo-Japanese negotiations. When the news of Sir Fazli's death was communicated to him by the Associated Press Sir Zafrullah was overwhelmed with grief. He said: "My personal loss will be irreparable. The sense of duty which Sir Fazli had instilled in me will always remain the guiding star of my life.

Nawab Muzaffar Khan revenue Member, Punjab, is leaving for Batala to-day to pay a condolence visit to Sir Fazli's family.—A. P.

Late Sir Fazli Hussein.

REAL PATRIOT AND NATIONALIST

"I with my intimate friendship with Sir Fazli Hussein extending over a period of over twenty years, hold that he was a real patriot and a great nationalist, though these qualities manifested themselves in other than the obvious and conventional ways to which we are accustomed.

"He loved India and desired to serve her with all his many gifts."

So said Mrs. Sarojini Naidu when interviewed regarding the death of Sir Fazli Hussein which occurred on Thursday night at Lahore.

"Sir Fazli's death has caused great regret in the political circles in Bombay.

In the course of the interview Mrs. Sarojini Naidu said, "For many years he existed on the frontiers—between life and death—a frail heroic figure with body that was always full of suffering and of a will indomitable in its serenity and strength. He undoubtedly was one of the most brilliant and remarkable men of our time. There was in his lifetime as there will continue to be, now that he is dead, acute divergence of opinion about him. He evoked the most conflicting emotions, in the people who came in contact with his subtle dominating intellect and personality—admiration, fear, dislike mistrust or affection—but there was none who failed to be deeply impressed by his power.

"He loved India and desired to serve her with all his many gifts. But his overwhelming love was for his own province. Had he lived a little longer he would have most assuredly found some masterly solution for the vexed
